Wellesley Townhouse representatives contend that the cooperative apartment complex is safer than ever since Garner Road has been blocked off. Romulus Fire officials are trying to get the poles removed. Representatives of the townhouse, 35661 Smith Rd., are installing a guardhouse at the entrance to make it even safer for residents. They feel that the new security guard posted at the only entrance-exit to the apartments will keep trespassing to a minimum.

Townhouse owner builds guardhouse for safety

There's two sides to every story. And that certainly holds true for Wellesley Townhouses, located at 35661 Smith Road, in Romulus.

The city contends that officials of the cooperative's Board of Directors have flaunted its every attempt to remove the blockade the townhouse installed across Garner Road. Furthermore, Fire Chief John Wilhide has declared certain streets in Wellesley as fire lanes under an ordinance passed on Jan. 25. Now, representatives of Wellesley Townhouses say they have good, sound reasons for blocking Garner Road, and the most important one is the security of the occupants.

Audrey L. Johnson and Emily Malkoff, public relations directors for Wellesley, have submitted a stack of petition signatures to The Romulus Roman.

The petition reads: "We, the undersigned, members of Wellesley Cooperative Townhouses, would like our names removed from the petition which requested the removal of poles from Garner Road." Then follows a list of 58 names of people who live at Wellesley.

In other words, these 58 people — and Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Malkoff say there are many more — want their names removed from an earlier petition turned in to the city, requesting removal of the poles blocking Garner Road.

Sound confusing? Well, petitions originally were circulated and more than 100 occupants signed them, requesting the Garner Road poles be taken down. Now, however, the two ladies, representing Wellesley Townhouses, say that false information was given when the signatures were obtained.

"The poles were put up strictly as a precaution for security reasons," Mrs.

Johnson said. "When the original petitions were circulated, occupants were told all kinds of false information to get them to sign. Now, however, since the poles have been up for a few months, there's greater security than ever before and the residents feel safe."

Mrs. Johnson said the occupants do not want the poles taken down.

Certain other Wellesley exits were blocked at the same time that Garner was blockaded and the only entrance and exit now is Smith Road.

Before, police would come in Smith Road, and assailants or thieves would leave out the back exit. Now, with Smith Road the only way in and out, everyone is a lot safer," Mrs. Johnson said.

She added that before the exits were closed there were three or four car thefts a week last summer. "I witnessed a man mugged, and

Parade to kickoff County 4-H Fair

The annual Wayne County 4-H Fair will be kicked off with a big parade down Main Street through the city at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Flores, bands and 4-H animals will march to the Fairgrounds, Quirk Road, at I-94 Service Drive, to open the festivities which will highlight special activities each day through Aug. 20.

Parade units will assemble at Belleville High School at 1 p.m. Sunday and the 4-H queen will be the honored guest.

Although some exhibits will be set up Saturday, a spokesman said the fair will officially open Monday. Special events will be held each day. The fair midway will be open from noon until 11 p.m. daily.

On MONDAY, Dog Judging is at 10:30 a.m., archery judging, 2:30 p.m., and the always-exciting youth tractor pull at 6:30 p.m.

TUESDAY is senior citizens' day and they will be admitted free from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Horse judging is at 8 a.m., when more than 250 horses will be entered. More than 100 cows, the largest number ever, will be judged at 9 a.m.

Also at 9 a.m., Tuesday will be judging of youth, poultry and water fowl; at 11 a.m. — cow milking contest; 2 p.m. — beef judging; 3 p.m. — lamb judging; 5:30 p.m. — goat milking contest; 6 p.m. — beef judging; and 8 p.m. — Country-Western band will play in front of grandstand.

On WEDNESDAY, the featured event will be "Almost Anything Goes" when youths will have a relay race and also show their dairy goats, sheep, swine, rabbits and caviars (like guinea pigs) at 7:30 p.m.

Next week's paper will carry the schedule for Aug. 18-20. One of the highlights of each fair is the animal auction. It will take place at 6 p.m. Aug. 19 when champion stock steer, cows, rabbits and other animals will be sold that the youngsters have raised.

Roman requests candidate info

The Romulus Roman will endeavor to print stories on as many candidates running for City Council in the Sept. 12 primary election as possible.

However, candidates must turn in their information before noon on Aug. 19 to ensure getting it published. Information should be brought or mailed to 116 Fourth St., Belleville.

A biographical sketch will be written on all those who turn in double-spaced information regarding themselves. If candidates want a one-column head shot run with the story, they must supply their own photo. Photos will be returned upon request.

Only biographical information will be run and not campaign-oriented issues.

More information may be obtained by calling the Roman at 941-1275. Candidates should include spouse's name and names and ages of their children.

Stories will be run in the order they are received from candidates.

Sets public hearing Sept. 27

Council agrees on budget

Romulus City Council and administration officials, spurred by a lawsuit against them, agreed on a budget Monday morning to present at a public hearing Sept. 27.

The city has been without a budget since June 30, the end of the fiscal year, the date the city charter declares the fiscal document must be approved.

A lawsuit was brought against the city, the mayor and the council Aug. 1 by Ronald Slaughter, 30510 Dorset, Romulus. The suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court, asked for a court order to compel the city to explain why a budget was not adopted by June 30 as required by the charter.

However, special daytime meetings on Friday and Monday brought City Council and Finance Department officials into agreement and a budget was agreed upon.

The court case was scheduled to come before Judge James Montante this Friday, but the agreement Monday seems to have made that a mute question. Slaughter, who brought the lawsuit, said he wouldn't press the issue as long as the city made progress toward getting the budget approved.

The budget agreed upon after nine hours of deliberation — seven on Friday and two on Monday — is $8,767,173. The general fund budget is $387,773 less than last year.

"There was really a good workable spirit between the finance department and city council Friday and Monday," said Larry Moore, city accountant.

"In fact, I was amazed how well we worked together during the nine hours we met on those two days. The sessions were very productive and the council is to be commended for their cooperation and action on Friday and Monday."

Expenditures have been reduced in every department to reflect the most efficient and effective use of funds, he said.

Other major changes in the General Fund Budgets include a separate 34th District Court budget, a separate federal revenue sharing budget, and a revision of the Water and Sewer Fund budgets, based on the rate study by the firm of Jones and Henry of Toledo.

"Through efficient management of current funds, the residents of Romulus will have a slight decrease in their property taxes," Moore said.

Anticipated revenues will be up in the proposed budget because of the inducement of new construction of industry and housing, which will increase the number of permits for building and water taps, according to the city accountant.

Moore also pointed out that the increase of Federal Grant monies, which includes the 34th District Court, the new fire station being built on Eureka Road and anticipated grants for recreation, will increase revenues.

The city will spend $289,000 for recreation facilities in Elmer Johnson Park and two other parks. State and federal grants will give Romulus almost as much as that total in nearly-matching funds.

Other factors have affected the reduction of the General Fund Budget, but it will continue to provide the basic and necessary services to the residents of Romulus, according to Moore.

These include:
— Salaries for non-union personnel not to exceed a five percent increase.

— Elected officials' salaries have not been increased.

— Conference and workshops in most cases have been reduced.

— All "other" and "miscellaneous" expenditures have been reduced.

— Expenditures for legal services have been cut.

— Law enforcement services with the Wayne County Sheriff Dept. are continued.

— Contracts for rubbish, library, and People's Community Hospital Authority are the same as last year.

— Proposed expenditures for additional fire equipment.

— Additional recreational facilities through State and Federal grants.

The Water and Sewer Dept. budget has been separated to reflect actual revenues and expenditures to those funds. The rates recommended by the rate study were higher than those adopted in the Water and Sewer budgets.

The city is considering further recommendations as made by the rate study firm for future changes in the Water and Sewer Department, Moore pointed out.

Builder threatens to pull out

Vandalism hampers fire station

Romulus Fire Chief John Wilhide is well trained to handle emergencies.

But now, the veteran fire-fighter is faced with a new kind of "emergency" — one that threatens the completion of the city's new half-million-dollar fire station on Eureka Road.

It's called vandalism. And malicious destruction is seriously hampering work on the new station at 28777 Eureka Rd., between Middlebelt and Harrison.

"It started with small acts of destruction — like kicking a few blocks off the foundation," Wilhide explained. Then he listed some more costly acts of vandalism.

"On July 8, they tore a top row of decorative brick off the rear wall of the new building," the fire chief said. "Then on July 12, a whole cube of cinder blocks and 30 bags of mortar mix was stolen that cost $123 to replace. It must have been adults who did it because you could see where someone pulled in a truck and loaded the heavy bags."

Wilhide said that on the weekend of July 30-31 vandals kicked all the blocks loose on inside walls, that cost the mason $750 to replace in material and labor.

"It's plain to see that someone doesn't want this building put up," he said. He also pointed out that workers on the building overheard residents of the neighborhood say, "They'll never finish putting that building up."

Wilhide said he "baby-sat" with the building two nights to protect it from vandals. He also said he talked with Mayor James Stewart, and the mayor said he would try to get two auxiliary policemen to watch the building during the evenings.

Estimating the approximate cost of vandalism at $1,300, the fire chief admitted the masonry contractor was very discouraged and said if the vandalism continued, he would pull out and not complete the building.

"If we can ekp it under control this week, I think they'll have the building closed in and we'll be okay," Wilhide said optimistically.

There were also reports this past week of vandalism at the new $1 million 34th District court house going up in the Civic Center next to City Hall on Wayne Rd. Judge James Stone was very upset over hearing reports of damage to the new building he has worked hard for years to see erected.

According to reports, someone broke into the Pond Construction Trailer headquarters at the court site and stole a CB radio and some other items.

The fire station and new court house are both being built by federal grants approved earlier this year.

"It's a shame when people will destroy property just for the sake of destroying," Wilhide said.

"They probably don't even realize that the fire station they're helping to destroy may be the means of saving their life someday."

City officials said a beefed up police patrol and closer surveillance of the fire station and courthouse will be carried out from now on.

Vandals hit new fire station

Vandals have been busy lately at the site of the new fire station at 28777 Eureka Road, east of Middlebelt, in Romulus. More than $1,300 worth of damage has been done in destruction and thievery. Police officials promise a crackdown and beefed up surveillance of the property. Viewing the building last week were Judge James B. Stone,

Arts and crafts youths collect honors

Each year the Romulus Recreation Department sponsors and arts and crafts program for children ages 5 through 14 years through its summer recreation lineup.

And through its annual art show, the department recognizes the works of the youngsters. The artwork and crafts are displayed at the Romulus Public Library.

In the 5-year-old age group, Jerry Smith was first with his bead necklace. Placing second was Cathy Tyler's pot holder, with Ryan Anderson's leather wrist purse, third, and Jackie Howell's book mark, fourth.

In the 6-year-old age group Jerry Warbel's pot holder won first-place honors, with Michael Towler's stamp art placing second, and Heather Sparagowski's stamp art netting third. Fourth place went to Tina Groffel for her woven book mark.

In the 7-year-old category God's eye, by William Smith won first place, while second went to Kelly Valley for her sand painting.

Christy Nolan's stamp art placed third and Michelle Schraeder's burlap matt was fourth.

In the 8-year-old classification, David Stockdale's print art was first, with a burlap matt by Linda Cousino placing second. Third place went to Scott Harris for his leather key case.

In the 9-year-old category, Alicia Brown was first with her woven matt, while Nicki Svince won second with a stamp art picture. Placing third was Harold Smith's God's eye, and fourth was Steve Schraeder's bead chain.

In the 10-year-old age group first-place honors went to Jenny Anderson for her plant hanger, with Tammy Bagley capturing second for her clown sand art. Third-place honors went to Lisa Tyler for her necklace, and Evette Droulard's woven matt captured fourth place.

In the 12-year-old category, Sean Lumpiez was first, winning with his sand art, while David Woodard was second with his sand art, and Cheryl Nolan, third for her print art creations. Tying for third place was Brian Kosmalksi with his print art.

In the 13-year-old age group, first-place honors went to Lori Smith for her yarn owl, while Jackie Carter's horse sand art placed second. Third place was garnered by Jackie Dorevetti for her bead necklace.

In the 14-year-old category, first placed was netted by Mark Harrison for his stamp art.

The craft classes were held at Beverly, Cory, Hayti, Halecreek, Harrison, Mt. Pleasant and Gordonier Elementary Schools.

Judging duties were handled by Garnet Zilka, crafts co-ordinator, Donna Lee Zavitz, program co-ordinator, and Florence Hadyniak, Romulus senior citizens instructor.

Senate bill may expand Victim Fund

State Sen. Patrick McCollough of Dearborn has introduced legislation that will expand the ability of the Crime Victims Compensation Fund to provide compensation for persons injured in actions of domestic violence.

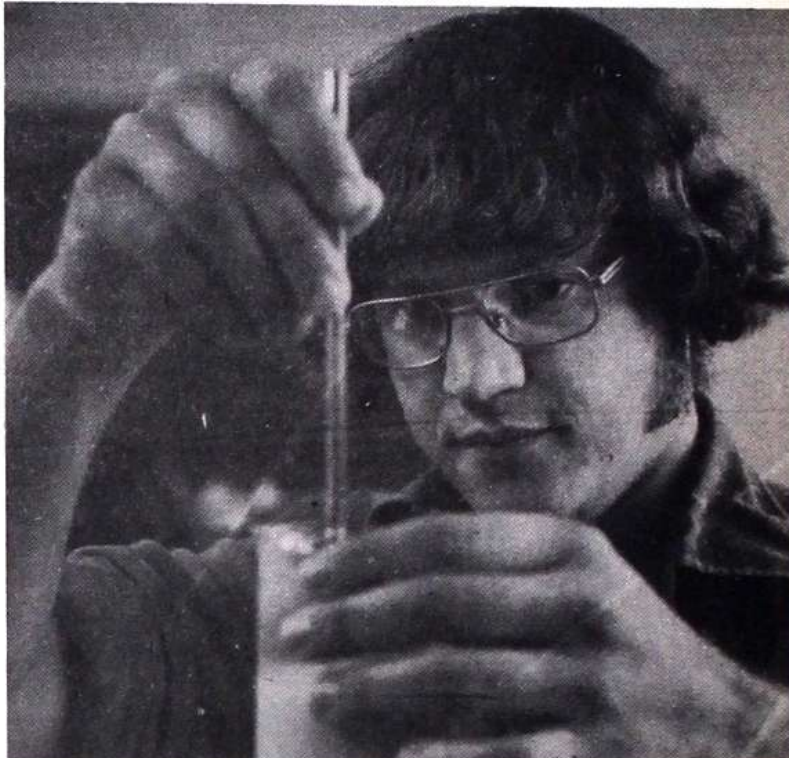

The Crime Victims Compensation Fund was established last year, under legislation introduced by McCollough, and will provide financial compensation to innocent victims of crime in Michigan when it takes effect this year.

"Beginning this October we will be able to help those persons who have been victimized by violent crimes in Michigan through the Crime Victims Compensation Fund," McCollough said. "But under the law approved by the Legislature last year, those persons injured in domestic violence do not qualify to apply for reimbursement from the fund."

"However, after studying the statute, it is clear that our original fears of fraudulent claims being filed by related persons are unjustified."

The Crime Victims Fund has a review board with authority to award up to $15,000 to a person who suffers a physical injury as a direct result of a crime.

"An award cannot be made on a claim unless the claimant has incurred out of pocket loss or two week's earnings or support," McCollough said. "Not only will this amendment expand the number of victims the compensation fund may assist, but it will give more discretionary power to the board in determining who will be compensated."

Researchers ask: 'What you think'

Romulus residents will find there is someone interested in what they think...about consumer credit and federal regulations affecting credit.

The Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan is conducting a study on behalf of the Federal Reserve Board Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and Comptroller of the Currency, in that Western Wayne County community now through Sept. 29.

Families in the community have been scientifically selected for the interview, which will give the three federal agencies a better understanding of the amounts and types of purchases made on credit and about people's opinions of various credit arrangements and regulations.

Data collected from each family will be analyzed by the University of Michigan social scientists and compiled into a statistical report, presenting a cross section of public thought and experience on the topic of credit use. Information never can be traced to any individual or address.

The Survey Research Center of the Institute for Social Research is a national research organization whose reputation is based on 30 years of interviewing for scientific purposes. It maintains a staff of professionally trained interviewers in the local area.

Wellesley Co-Op challenges city officials near-fatally shot about three doors down from my apartment last October."

Mrs. Johnson said a guard shack is being erected at the Wellesley entrance and a security guard will stand watch to make Wellesley an even safer place to live.
"Some think people get paid for being on the Wellesley Board of Directors but there's absolutely no compensation given to them. As far as the road closings go, they were discussed for two years at open board meetings. Everyone had an opportunity to voice their opinion," Mrs. Johnson said.

Mrs. Malkoff agreed.
"Security has improved greatly. Since we put the poles up blocking the exits, our breaking and enterings and thefts have decreased to almost zero," she explained.
"When we get the guard shack built and have complete security, people will feel even safer. Even their car insurance will probably go down."

Mrs. Johnson accused the city of not talking with them about the problems.
However, Public Safety Director Jerry Kubiak and Fire Chief Wilhide dispute that, saying they have tried to work out matters in a peaceful way, but have been rebuffed by the Wellesley representatives.

As far as Garner's blockade causing a problem in case of a fire, Wellesley's Board of Directors' President Richard J. Zavodsky contends just the opposite.
In a letter addressed to Wilhide, Zavodsky writes: "The fire station which serves the Wellesley Townhouses is located at Wayne Road and Ecorse. Therefore, Smith Road is the closest entrance to this station by a quarter of a mile minimum."

"This entrance is protected by a traffic light, a median to separate traffic, and a paved shoulder for your vehicles to turn onto. The Garner Road entrance does not possess these safe measures and is complicated by the uncontrolled traffic from the 7-11 store located on the corner of Garner and Wayne Road."

Mrs. Johnson added: "We've only had two fires in the past eight years." She also agreed with Zavodsky that the Smith Road entrance would be much better for the fire engines to use in case of fire.

So that's where the "battle of the blockade" stands right now.
The guard shack will soon be completed at the Smith Road entrance and a security guard stationed there.

Some Wellesley residents say their freedom is greatly hindered. Others say it's the greatest place to live in the world.

Fire Chief Wilhide says the blockade will come down. Wellesley officials say it won't. Yes, there's two sides to every story.

For 3rd consecutive year

Drill team brings home state title

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne-Romulus Civil Air Patrol Drill Team is the best in the state.

No doubt about it.
The smart-stepping cadets, under the direction of Andrew Orgovan Jr., won six trophies July 24 as they swept to their third consecutive state title.

"For the third straight time, our great cadets from the squadron took the Michigan Wing (state) drill competition," said Orgovan proudly.

"It makes me extremely proud to be able to work with these cadets and to be able to know each one. I'll never forget them," said Drill Commander Orgovan, who was one of the three-co-valedictorians in this year's Romulus High School graduating class.
Now the Wayne-Romulus drillers are gearing up for regional competition Aug. 27 and 28 in Dayton, Ohio.

Orgovan led both the Class A 18-member team and the Class B nine-member squad to state titles. In addition to those two trophies, Orgovan won a pair of trophies for being judged best drill instructor in Class A and B. Also, the Wayne-Romulus Squadron 16-2 received a special state trophy, and an Old Grady trophy went to Constellation Squadron, and Gary Udovich, Group 16.

Not only did the squadron win Class A honors again, it also captured first place with nine-member team comprised of all female cadets. Making up the Class B team were Jacqueline Bath, Suzy Block, Bethanne Farrell, Dora Gilbert, Nora Hatcher, Mary Kaczperski, Elizabeth Olson, Suzanne Orgovan and Nina Trump.

Proudest of all were the parents of the drill team and the three senior officers, Lt. Col. Martha Brazer, Capt. Joan Douglass, squadron commander, and 1st Lt. Sandra Dubois, squadron master information officer.

"All our cadets did a wonderful job," praised Officer Brazer. "Congratulations are offered from all the senior officers and we want to thank all the parents who provided transportation and great moral support for our team."

"We want to especially thank Phil Petri and Ernie Willett of Phil and Ernie's Barbershop in Romulus for helping our cadets pass inspection, with military haircuts for all the male cadets," added Capt. Douglass.

Team Cadets who participated in the spectacular state championship performance included Deborah Bath, Jacqueline Bath, Suzy Block, Kristine Bunyak, Bethanne Farrell, Denise Gilbert, Dora Gilbert, Nora Hatcher, James Hering, Mary Kaczperski, Anthony King, Timothy Kudla, Kathleen McPhee, Elizabeth Olson, Joseph Olson, Suzanne Orgovan, Greg Phillips, Anthony Scott, Nina Trump and Delores Wagner, in addition to drill commander Orgovan.

"When the judges announced that the Wayne-Romulus Drill team had won, I felt proud for us and our community," commented Cadet Jackie Bath, serving her first year on the drill team. "When we went through inspection, my nerves were really moving, but I kept saying that we were a team and knew what we were doing because we had practices every night."

"When they said that our team had won, for the first time I knew what winning really was. We all started out as individuals, but when we were out on the field we became a team, and we really looked like one."

"Our team showed the true pride of our community, and we will be proud to carry on this to regional camp. And we owe thanks to the moms and dads of Civil Air Patrol."

Suzanne Orgovan, who was on last year's state championship team, echoed the same sentiments.

"You wouldn't believe how proud I was to hear our name being announced as winners of the Michigan Drill Competition for the third time."

"I knew that if we worked hard and if we tried our best, we could do it," she emphasized. "It took a lot of practice, but we did it."

First-year Cadet Anthony Scott felt appearance requirements played a big part in the team's performance.

"Drill competition was tough because my uniform had to be just right and my shoes had to be shined," he pointed out. "But I loved the whole thing. The teams weren't quite as tough as I thought they would be, but then again I knew we had a good chance because we had the best commander a team could have."

"To really have a good team, you must have a commander who is willing to give up everything just for them team, like the one we have," young Scott said.

Then he added: "But I think one of the most important reasons we won is because we're like one big happy family — everybody cares about each other and tries to help each other out."

Master Information Officer Dubois had special commendation for parents who opened their homes for special CAP drill team activities.

"We want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Olson, for hosting an overnight 'shoeshine party' for the male cadets, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gilbert for opening their home for the female cadets' 'shoeshine party'."

"Also, all the cadets want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bath for holding a pool party in honor of the winning team after the tough competition. It really was great of them," said Officer Dubois.

Now, the "one big happy family" casts an eye at Dayton and hopes to continue its championship ways in the regionals there.

Doss joins in council campaign

Daniel Doss, a 4-year resident of Romulus who is active in many community activities, is a candidate for Romulus City Council in the Sept. 12 primary.

Convinced the council must be returned to the best interests of the citizens, the 40-year-old vice-president of UAW Local 735 is making his first run for city office.

Doss has been employed for 13 years at Hydra-matic Plant as an electrician and served five years on the executive board of Local 735, the second largest local in region 1A.

An avid baseball fan, Doss has been active in coaching Little League Baseball for nine years, most recently as manager of teams in Romulus South Little League Baseball. He was unit director of Romulus Athletic Club in 1975.

Doss is serving his second term as president of Hale Creek PTA, attends Gilead Baptist Church in Taylor and belongs to F&AM Lodge 13 in Ypsilanti. He is also a member of the Romulus Democratic Club and of the Loyal Order of Moose in Riverview.

A graduate of Wayne State University Institute of Labor and Labor relations in 1971, Doss is presently a Democrat precinct delegate in Ypsilanti.

Married, he and his wife, Bettie Jean, reside at 28636 Burning Tree and have three children, Sandra Kay, 17, Kimberly Ann, 11, and Danny Mark, 14.

Church to show 'Rapture'

"The Rapture", an exciting new color film that deals with Bible prophecy relating to the return of Christ, will be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday at Romulus Wesleyan Church, 37300 Goddard, Romulus.

This film adds a new dimension to the ministry of David Wilkerson, who some have called a phenomenon of our times. Led by God into one of the more difficult areas of this country to preach — the ghettos of New York City — he pioneered a gospel ministry that is now worldwide.

Again led of God, he began writing and produced a better seller, "The Cross and the Switchblade".

Now, David Wilkerson has added a new field — motion pictures — and "The Rapture" is the result.

"At a time when a number of films are appearing on the subject of the return of Christ, 'The Rapture' is a low-key, but imaginative, portrayal of how a television network might possibly handle the spectacular catching away of millions of saints with the chaos that would result," said The Rev. Jim Roberts, new pastor of Romulus Wesleyan Church.

While recognizing that there are diverse opinions as to the return of Christ, "The Rapture" attempts to accurately portray how the people of science, a liberal clergy, and the news media would react to the sudden and unexplained disappearance of millions of people whenever it occurs in God's chronology of events.

"The Rapture", in a very graphic way, reveals the folly of not being ready for the return of Christ, whenever it occurs, and — after all — isn't that what the Bible is all about?" Pastor Roberts asked.

The public is invited and there is no charge to see the film.

Rec Department to stage picnic

More than 700 boys and girls are expected to attend the annual Romulus Recreation Department Picnic from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

tomorrow at Willow Metropark. It's free and is being held for all Romulus children who took part in the Recreation Department's summer program. "There are few cities who offer this type of special treat for all of their youth," said Marie DeBuysscher, recreation director.

The Recreation Department provides free hot dogs, potato chips, pop and ice cream. In addition, there will be races and games from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and swimming from about 12 to 3 p.m. Lunch is planned for 11:30 a.m.

Free bus transportation will be provided to take the children to the metropark system and back. There will be plenty of supervision, Mrs. DeBuysscher said, by recreation department employees and volunteer workers.

"We're proud of our youth programs and workers and are happy to be able to do this for our young people," Mrs. DeBuysscher said.

"It's our way of saying 'Thank you' to all those who worked so hard to make our summer recreation program a big success."

Last year, 700 turned out for the picnic and 800 were on hand in 1975.

For any information, Mrs. DeBuysscher may be contacted at the Recreation Department at 941-0666, ext. 67.

Romulus DPW garners historical photographs

As a result of a recent refurbishing of McDonald's Restaurant interior walls, the Romulus hamburger eatery has donated 12 4-by-4 foot historical photographs of large trucks, 18-wheelers, tank trucks and street scenes to the Department of Public Works.

The dozen pictures used to grace the walls of McDonald's and will be hung in the DPW building at 34100 Goddard Road.

Dane Gamble, manager of McDonald's, presented the pictures to Dave Paul, director of the DPW. One of the photos is a picture of the GM General, which features a big emblem with five stars on the front of the hood.

Parts for powering the GM General are manufactured at GM's Detroit Diesel Allison Division, located in Romulus.

"We think it is highly significant that one of the pictures is of a large vehicle whose main engine parts are made right here in the city," said Paul in accepting the pictures on behalf of the city. "We are very grateful for the generosity of the McDonald's Corp. in donating these valuable large pictures to the City of Romulus."

Paul said the department planned on framing the pictures and displaying them prominently throughout the Department of Public Works Building and also in the reception office for the enjoyment and interest of the public.

"The large trucks pictured in the over-sized photos are very appropriate to hang in the DPW building. The department uses equipment of a similar nature," Paul said.

CB World

Channel 9: For emergencies only

Channel 9 — emergencies only. If you are going to monitor Channel 9 at all, I suggest you read all you can about this one, and if possible talk to someone who has had some experience with this channel.

Monitoring Channel 9 is a whole different experience. There is no ratchet jawing here. It's a whole different world. There is serious business to be taken care of on Channel 9. You will not hear "breaker, breaker" on this one.

Every now and then you might hear someone break for a friend, but if asked to leave the channel in a courteous manner, they will realize their mistake and clear the frequency immediately.

If you need to use Channel 9, or feel you want to monitor it, I can't stress enough for you to learn how to use it properly. Most people feel that there is nothing to handling an emergency call, but the first time it happens to you, you may find yourself in a situation you can't handle.

First of all, be sure you get the correct information. You want to get as much as you need, as quickly and as accurately as possible. When you call the report in to the local authorities, be sure not to panic or try to rattle the information off to them. Keep at a smooth even pace and try to keep calm. Remember at all times, you could be saving a life.

CB officially became a highway aid in 1970. Before that time there was no emergency channel to call out on. People volunteered their time by monitoring Channel 9 for emergency calls and this is how it came into existence. The larger groups such as, REACT, MEP and HELP were formed for such purposes — to aid motorists and relay information to police, fire, civil defense, wrecker or other authorities.

No matter how you say it — "Mayday," "SOS," "HELP," "10-33," or "This is an emergency" — your call for assistance will more than likely be heard by someone on the CB radio.

Another class of calls on Channel 9 are for motorist assistance. You may use Channel 9 to request wrecker service, or if you are lost in an unfamiliar area. These types of calls will also be answered. Try to remember to identify yourself with your FCC call letters. In some, if not most areas, you will not get a response if you do not identify yourself with your call letters. Never identify yourself by your handle on Channel 9.

There are certain groups that are using Channel 9 to dispatch mobiles. I have heard them asking to bring a cup of coffee or a bottle of pop to a certain location. To the best of my knowledge, this is not approved by the FCC. It does interfere with emergency transmissions. Once again, I would like to repeat, Channel 9 is for the use of emergencies or motorist assistance only.

Most police agencies are equipped with CB radio in their patrol cars. It is estimated that by 1980 national coverage could be routine.

Speaking from my own experiences with Channel 9, I can tell you that if you help someone out there, whether it be assistance or an emergency, you will have a very good feeling just by knowing that you were there when someone needed help. It has to be the best reward of all.

JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

Green thumb

Making sure which plant goes where can be a difficult task when it's the first of many to be placed in a terrarium. That's what Cathy Morse, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Wilson of Walnut, Romulus discovered in an ornamental plants class at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. Here, she places the first layer of plant life in her terrarium, a class project. A 1970 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, she earned her degree in biology and now is a graduate student at the Ypsilanti-based college.

When you need help

Community services: Who handles what

(This is the first of a 4-part series.)
Troubled? Need help or information, but you don't know where to turn?

Hundreds of community services are available to help you prevent, remedy or relieve a critical or frustrating situation, if you learn where and how to find them. They include health and social services, paid by your tax dollars, or by your contributions to the United Foundation's Torch Drive. Or, they are programs sponsored through other non-profit private sources, such as service clubs, neighborhood groups and religious organizations.

To help locate the service you need now or may need later, Associated Newspapers will be publishing a comprehensive list of services, compiled by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

If you need additional information, professional assistance in sorting out your problems, or someone to go to bat for you in cutting red tape or getting prompt attention, call Community Information Service toll-free, day or night, at 1-800-552-1183.

This week's listing will deal with alcohol and drug abuse, advocate help and children's needs.

Ford Motor Co. seeks 1903 model

In connection with its 75th anniversary, the Ford Motor Co. has launched a worldwide "treasure hunt" for any 1903 Model A cars that still might be undiscovered.

The Model A, which in 1903 sported a $750 price tag, today, if in mint condition, is worth as much as $30,000, according to George DeAngelis, an antique car expert and member of Ford's anniversary committee.

Ford built 1,708 Model A's during the company's first 15 months in business.

DeAngelis said some of the original Model A's — not to be confused with the Model A introduced in 1928 — are known to be in the hands of private collectors and museums. The Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, for example, has two of them.

The owners of 1903 Model A's located in the hunt will be guests at special luncheon programs to be held in connection with the company's anniversary, June 16, 1978.

The address is 75th Anniversary Committee, Ford Motor Company, The American Road, Room 955-A, Dearborn 48121.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IS HELPING TO KILL ONE-SEVENTH OF AMERICA'S ADULTS. AND THEY DON'T EVEN KNOW IT.

Every year, thousands of Americans die from heart disease, strokes and kidney failure caused by their High Blood Pressure. Most didn't know they had it. So see a doctor, or visit a clinic. It's a lot better to know if you have High Blood Pressure than to die from ignorance.

ANP, 'We the People'—
co-sponsor 'Meet your Candidates Night'

Associated Newspapers, publisher of the Romulus Roman, in cooperation with the Romulus civic group, "We the People", will host a Meet your Candidates Night.

The Roman and "We the People" will provide residents of the community with the opportunity of questioning announced candidates for the offices of city clerk, city treasurer, city council, and mayor.

For over 92 years the Roman has served the citizens of the Romulus area, providing fair and unbiased reporting of the events which have helped form what has now become the City of Romulus.

For over 92 years the community has looked for and expected the Roman to provide the community with responsible leadership to help in the development of their city. For that reason, the Roman accepts its responsibility to the citizens of the community and will speak out on the issues that we feel are important to the health of a growing community.

A part of our responsibility to the community, as we see it, is to take an active role in the affairs of the city. To that end we have scheduled a Meet your Candidates Night.

"We the people", the newly-formed non-partisan civic group in Romulus, is made up of people from the community who are vitally interested in promoting good government for Romulus.

Members of that group have displayed an active interest in community affairs, on a non-partisan basis. They have joined with Associated Newspapers in sponsoring this Meet your Candidates Night for the purpose of providing the citizens of Romulus with an opportunity to gain as much information as possible about those people who have made the decision to seek elective office.

This will be the one opportunity for the residents of Romulus to view and hear their prospective leaders field questions from the members of the Roman staff, who cover Romulus events, and members of the "We the People" organization.

We at Associated are looking forward to the opportunity of fulfilling our responsibility to the citizens of Romulus, and with the help of the "We the People" organization, we hope to attain that objective.

The schedule and procedure for the program is as follows: from 5:30 p.m. through 6:30 p.m., the candidates for city clerk and treasurer will be interviewed. The procedure that will be followed will be the same for all candidates.

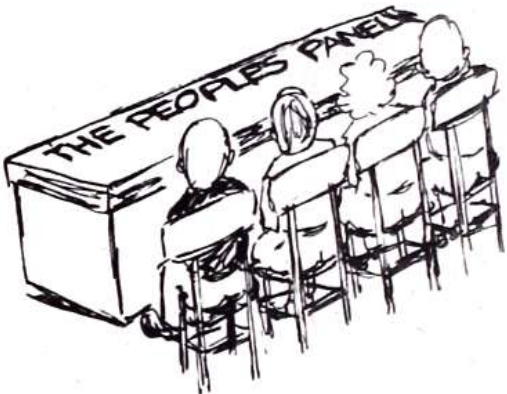

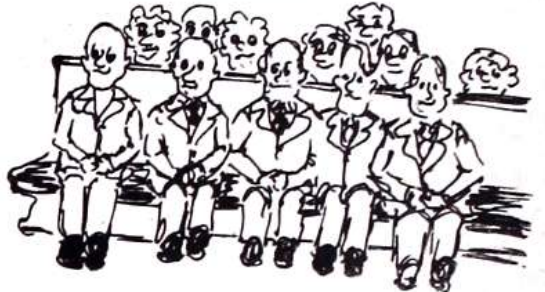

At the beginning of the program, each candidate will be allowed a three-minute presentation of himself, his goals, and how he or she might improve upon existing procedures and programs currently in operation for the office which he is seeking.

A list of prepared questions from the editorial staff of Associated Newspapers will be presented to each of the candidates. They will be allowed a two-minute reply to all questions. Each candidate will be requested to respond to each question asked.

During the program, the audience will be invited to write questions for the candidates on furnished cards. Those questions will be reviewed by members of "We the People" and Associated Newspapers for clarity and content. Selected questions will be passed along to the program moderator, Dennis Fassett, managing editor of Associated Newspapers. Fassett will present the question to the candidates, and in general, conduct the meeting. His decision will be final on any unresolved issue. Any candidate or member of the audience who would disrupt the meeting will be asked to leave.

MEET THE CANDIDATES NIGHT IN ROMULUS

ONLY YOU THE PEOPLE CAN DECIDE.

From 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., candidates for the city council will be interviewed. The same procedure will be followed with the exception of the introductory speech. Due to the number of candidates for offices, each candidate will be allowed only two minutes for his introduction.

From 8:30 p.m. through 10 p.m. the candidates for mayor will be interviewed following the same format.

Each candidate for mayor will be allowed a 5-minute introductory speech. Following the introductions, the candidates will be allowed a 2-minute period for response to statements made by the other candidates.

It is hoped that all participants of Meet your Candidates Night will conduct themselves in a manner commensurate with the position which they are seeking as they stand before the citizens of Romulus to present their credentials.

Sumpter millage OK urged

An Open Letter to Sumpter Residents As you probably know the Van Buren School System again, is asking us to approve a 2.35 operating millage increase Tuesday August 30, 1977.

I earnestly appeal to Sumpter residents to approve this increase. If this millage goes down to defeat the last educational vestige to carry Sumpters' name will close — Sumpter Elementary School. Sumpter School has been a fine example of educational fulfillment for many students in the acquisition of knowledge and in the development of high ideals. We have to try to save this institution of learning and like most things it will cost us additional money.

For those whose evaluation falls in the $10,000 range it will cost approximately $11.75, $15,000-$17.63, $20,000-$23.50 for $30,000-$35.25 and so on. We must examine our priorities and decide where education will lie.

If Sumpter School should be forced to close due to the millage defeat, along with Denton Elementary School, the entire Van Buren School System will have to be dismantled, additional busing will occur for many students, overcrowded conditions will prevail, not to mention emotional upheaval for many.

We are being asked by the school system to tighten our belts and bite the bullet. I can consider this because I believe the system is in dire need of additional funds and without the additional revenue the school system and above all the young people of the Van Buren School System will ultimately suffer. The system has already made massive cuts to booster sagging finances. Art and Music have been eliminated from the elementary level, with shortened days, 45 teachers cut from the payroll, shortened secondary schooldays. How much more will we allow our educational system to falter?

I must do what I can to help and so on August 30, 1977 I will say YES! I hope you will too.

Ypsilanti blasted

To the Honorable Mayor, Ypsilanti, Mich.:

We have been in Ypsilanti several times and always donate money for your parking meters.

On this day, we parked on South Washington Street and put a nickel in meter no. 157. The reason we didn't put a nickel in meter no. 158, there was a car parked across half of the space.

When we came out, ten minutes later, there was still 20 minutes left on our meter, but we also found a parking ticket on our windshield request $1.00 for meter no. 158.

I then drove to the Ypsilanti police station and complained and was told to meet the officer who wrote the ticket in the parking lot on North Huron Street.

I drove through the parking lot twice and didn't see any officer. I gave up and decided to send you your One lousy dollar. However, I would like you to know — that it will be a "cold day in hell" before I come back to your lousy city.

I will in the future drive 25 miles out of my way to keep from driving through your city.

I would also like to inform you that I'm sending a copy of this letter to Ypsilanti Press and the Belleville Enterprise.

Grocery shopping for 30,000

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

Most of us, on at least a weekly basis, must accomplish the chore of grocery shopping. We used the noun chore purposely because it's just no longer any fun to battle those seemingly unending lines and the outrageous prices flashed at us when the ordeal has come to an end.

Still, we saw a weekly grocery list yesterday which brought water to our eyes as we blinked and tried to understand its magnitude.

We were talking to Maggie L. Forbes, RD, Director of Dietetics at the Annapolis Hospital. Ms. Forbes had just sat down in her office for a quick coffee break before starting the routine for lunch which would have to be served to 287 patients that day.

The weekly grocery list to which we referred earlier ran something like this: 4050 half-pints of homogenized milk, 190 half-gallons of homogenized milk, 225 pounds of cottage cheese, 150 dozen eggs, 90 pounds of bulk margarine, 48 pounds of butter pats, 120 loaves of white bread, 1875 slices of individually wrapped bread, 80 pounds of frozen eggs, and 300 pounds of coffee.

To these stunning figures you can add skim milk, salt, mustard, ginger ale, tea, ice cream, meat, soup, and dozens of other commodities needed to feed the patients and employees in a hospital the size of Annapolis.

"We prepared and served 31,064 meals in the month of May," she said, "and from looking over my reports, that figure is about average for the year with the exception of December when the patient census is always considerably lower than the other 11 months."

She said that patients are served three meals a day and some are additionally given two snacks; on any given day there are approximately 900 employees in the hospital who may use the cafeteria.

Ms. Forbes is a graduate of Wayne State University where she earned a BS in Foods and Nutrition. She is a native of Inkster, and has been employed at Annapolis since 1969.

She showed us the PCHA Dietary Manual — some 200 pages of esoteric, highly sophisticated diets and data on sundry foods.

She said that from the basic diets listed, she could come up with literally thousands of variations.

As we thumbed through the manual, it became quite obvious why Directors of Dietetics must have a college education and many years of experience before accepting the challenge offered by being responsible for a large-scale food operation.

These diets are written in metrics (25 milligrams, et al) and concern themselves with things such as soft diets, bland diets, calorie controlled diets, low sodium, fat restricted, specials for diabetics, cholesterol restricted, and for a very few extremely fortunate people, diets to gain weight. (I passed those pages by as quickly as I could!)

"The physicians order the diets for their patients, and our therapeutic dieticians on the patient floors relay that information to the kitchen where our people go about the business of filling the specifications of the diet," she said.

She also made some interesting observations about food.

"Our clientele are captive, and have no options or alternatives. If they are to eat, they must eat what we prepare and deliver to their rooms."

"We are highly sensitive to this fact. We know, for instance, that food may trigger emotional responses which may reach exaggerated proportions, not only because of foods substitution for other comforts not readily available in a hospital environment, but because of its meaning relative to childhood, family, racial, and ethnic experiences."

"Hence, not only are our meals nutritionally sound, but they are 'presented' to the patient in an attractive way as possible."

"If a patient is distressed because that patient doesn't like the bland diet ordered by the doctor, one of our professionals will take the time to sit down with that patient and explain why certain restrictions are necessary. This little bit of extra effort coupled with what the doctor has already told the patient usually solves any small problems before they become major crises," she said.

Such efforts are extremely important in that several studies throughout the country have conclusively shown that if food service in a closed environment satisfies the eater (patient, prisoner in jail, jurist sequestered in a jury room, or a Vice President in a Board Room as examples) that person will respond better to his current situation.

Ms. Forbes maintains a staff of 60 people performing the many functions necessary to the operation of the modern kitchen: therapeutic dieticians, dietary supervisors, food service manager, food service supervisor, cooks and bakers, diet menu processors, and dietary helpers.

"We are an active crew," she said, "but all the personnel who work in this service are professionals and they truly understand the importance and significance of their jobs."

As we prepared to take leave of the delightful smells of the kitchen, Ms. Forbes asked that we be sure to underscore one more thing for our readers.

"You don't have to be rich to enjoy a nutritional diet," she said. "If you include the basic four (meat, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals and some dairy products) you'll do well for your body, and that good physical feeling will have a positive effect on your mental outlook."

WCRP thanked

'Lemon' protection and other legislation

There has been House action in the first six months of the 1977 session on a number of bills in the interests of consumers.

One of them applies to those car buyers who happen to hit a "lemon." Auto dealers often sell installment contracts to financial institutions, such as banks. In this way, the dealer does not have to wait until all payments are made before getting full price for the car. The financial institution pays the dealer for the contract and collects the payments.

However, if something is wrong with the car, and the dealer refuses to satisfy the buyer's demands to repair it, the customer has no financial leverage to force the dealer to correct the defects. The dealer is financially out of the picture.

If the buyer tries to withhold payments to get action from the dealer, the financial institution is likely to repossess the car. The customer is therefore in a position in which he has to continue to make monthly payments on a defective car. The only recourse for the buyer is to sue the dealer, which can be a lengthy, expensive and possibly unsuccessful process.

A bill approved by the House and sent to the Senate would enable the buyer to withhold payments to the financial institution and defend himself against claims by the financial institution, which he cannot do under present law. This would enable the buyer to put indirect pressure on the dealer.

Another bill sent to the Senate would prohibit a merchant from starting to charge interest on a retail charge purchase until the customer has actually received the merchandise or services.

This would apply both to a store's own charge plan and purchases made with bank credit cards. The merchants would be prohibited from submitting the charges to the bank until the goods or services had been delivered.

In most cases, the customer gets his merchandise at the point of purchase. However, there are times when an item must be specially ordered for the customer, who may not receive it for some time. Occasionally, the merchandise may arrive damaged or may not be what the customer wanted. If interest has been computed from the time of purchase, the buyer is paying interest on something he does not have yet or may not want.

The bill also requires that any mistaken interest charges be adjusted in accordance with the Federal Consumer Protection Act. Under that law, the consumer has 60 days to notify the creditor of an apparent error in billing. The creditor then has 90 days to notify the consumer that there was no error, or, if there was one, to correct it.

Also approved by the House as a bill to protect owners or prospective buyers of condominium units. This is especially important since Michigan, with more than 1,000 condominiums in the state, ranks third in the nation in condominium development, behind only California and Florida. The bill would require that developers obtain licenses to sell or even to offer for sale condominium units located in Michigan or in other states when the units are sold in Michigan. A master deed would have to be filed with the Department of Commerce.

A written notice of intent to build a condominium would have to be filed with the local unit of government and the County Road Commission and drain commissioner.

Each prospective buyer would have to be offered a disclosure statement. Those who take reservations to buy would have to receive a copy of the master deed and the by-laws of co-owners. Any deposits would have to be promptly refunded upon request.

If a developer advertises a recreational facility or other common element, the Department of Commerce could require the developer to establish an escrow account to ensure completion of the facility.

The bill also details the rights and responsibilities of the Association of Co-owners, as well as the action taken in case of default by a co-owner. If an owner wishes to rent his unit he would have to notify the association beforehand, and supply the association with a copy of the lease.

The bill is under consideration in the Senate.

The legislature approved another measure to protect consumers against the possibility of buying PBB contaminated food. PBB (Polybrominated Biphenyl) is a toxic fire retardant chemical which was accidentally mixed with livestock feed that was distributed, sold and used widely across the state in 1973, causing heavy losses for many farmers and a threat to human health.

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

The bill reduces the level of PBB allowed to pass from farm products into the food chain to .02 parts per million in livestock tissue. The contamination level had been .3 parts per million.

The measure requires the testing of all dairy cows born before January 1, 1976 when the animals are culled from the herd for meat production. Those found to contain more than .02 parts per million of PBB, which is considered the lowest measurable level will be destroyed and buried. Farmers will be reimbursed for their losses.

Milk will also be tested before leaving dairy farms. Any cows giving PBB-tainted milk will be taken out of production.

Federal welfare reform may be answer

There is a recognized need for welfare reform, but it is felt that it can be more effective if approached from the federal level.

Because of this, there has been considerable interest in the Legislature in President Carter's welfare reform proposals since, if approved by Congress, they would have a tremendous impact on Michigan's social services programs and policies.

The President's plan is tentative at the present time, but the Administration is expected to present its comprehensive welfare reform proposal to Congress around August 1. Recommendations have been made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Department of Labor and presidential advisors are working to formulate the Carter welfare policy.

The President feels the present welfare system is so bad it should be scrapped and replaced with a multiple program that would provide jobs for those who can work, financial assistance for those who cannot, and income tax credits for the working poor.

The President says the new system will initially cost no more than the present system, which is now budgeted at $28.6 billion for next fiscal year.

He feels that the cost of welfare for state and local governments should be reduced as rapidly as federal resources permit, but he is not advocating a federal takeover of the system.

Following are key points of the Carter plan:

—Up to two million public service jobs designed to provide employment for every family with children and a family member able to work.

—Earned income tax credit for the working poor, possibly higher than present levels or supplemented with cash.

—A decent income for those unable to work, with the benefits now provided by Aid to Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income and food stamps consolidated in one cash payment. The payment would be the same for all recipients nationwide, except where adjusted for cost-of-living difference.

The plan would include incentives to encourage people to take jobs in the private sector rather than public service jobs. It would also encourage people to work by insuring that a family with at least one person working would make more than a family on welfare. Incentives would be designed to keep families together. The present system makes it financially rewarding for a working father to leave home and let his family go on welfare.

Local administration of public service jobs would be emphasized.

The President points out that these programs would be simpler and easier to administer than the present system, and that they offer incentives to be honest and eliminate welfare fraud.

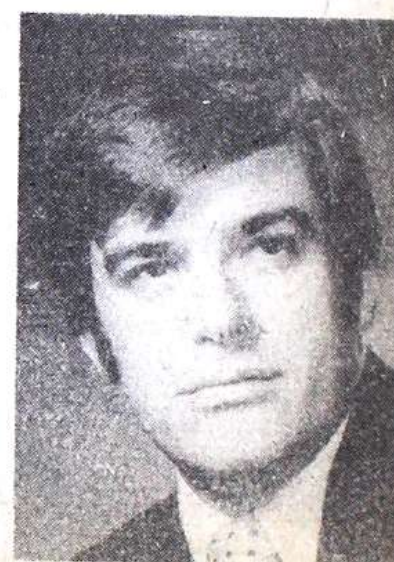

According to the President, if the new legislation can be adopted by Congress, it would take about three years to fully implement it.

The present programs, he says, are not adequate, fair or rational, are too wasteful, and are open to fraud.

The Administration has promised to discuss the program with state legislators and governors to find out state by state what the impact will be.

There are still many details to be worked out and the plan could be revised somewhat or even considerably by the time it reaches Congress. Just what will happen to it in Congress is an uncertainty, but the program does offer a very different approach to welfare reform.

On the Brighter Side

Just what am I worth?

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Psychologists tell us that self-worth is vital to a happy, balanced life.

In other words, what you think you're worth has a lot to do with how successful and productive you are. And that's what has me worried.

I'm not sure just how much I'm worth! Oh, I know. Some people don't think I'm worth two cents. Like the letter-writer from Romulus whose humorous literary effort labeled me a suspect. How much is a suspect worth? I guess it depends if you're one of the "ten most wanted" or not.

In case you missed that week's issue, it was a letter to the editor from a partisan political person in Romulus. I believe the name was No lean, but I think she does lean.

But if you think her letter was vitriolic (hey boss, I learned a new word!), you should read some others I've received. One man wrote me a letter a few months ago that must have been written with a poison dart dipped in acid.

It wasn't signed. Now many of you read this column and think, what a glamorous life columnists lead. We get our picture in the paper each week, get to write on any subject we want to and have an enormous following of devoted fans. Wrong!

Oh, I have a devoted following alright, but how many newspapers can my wife and mother buy each week? And then there's one other reader who never misses my column. He says, "Jim, I never read your column, so I never miss it."

However, I do have a few readers. For instance, I'm worth at least 25 cents to Mable Samland of Westland. She's a dear friend of mine — and she's also pretty smart. She says she looks to see if my column is on the editorial page before she buys the Westland Eagle. She says if it's not there — then she doesn't buy the paper that week. (Are you listening, boss?). So, I'm worth at least 25 cents to Mable.

Also, I'm worth 20 cents to many people who phone me to tell me what they think of my writing. One lady even thought enough of me to tape our phone conversation without my knowledge. How much does a cassette tape cost? (Am I worth that much?).

To some people I'm worth 13 cents. That's how much it costs to send a letter and I receive quite a few. I recently got a nice letter from a Christian couple. Inside was a beautiful white and gold pen with praying hands on the pocket clip.

My self-worth grew considerably the other day when my wife spent 48 cents to buy me a new ribbon for my IBM electric typewriter. I thought I was really beginning to "get up there" — just think, 48 cents! But my self-worth fell again when she gave me the ribbon and said, "I expect you to hand over your paycheck on Friday."

And so my self-worth was really fluctuating until I visited our main newspaper office in Wayne.

You see, I'm stationed in our Belleville office four days a week and come to my Wayne headquarters the fifth day when we tie up the loose ends and put the Romulus Roman and Belleville Enterprise newspapers together.

But that's where the rub comes in. I'm not even worth a telephone cord to my Managing Editor. The phone assigned to me sits on a file cabinet because the cord isn't long enough to reach my desk. As a result, every time the phone rings, I have to stand up to talk.

I've asked for a longer cord for three months now, but my boss says I don't need a phone on my desk. "It's just an unneeded luxury," he says. He says every good reporter should be able to have his phone on top a file cabinet.

"Just take notes with the receiver in one hand, your notebook in the other and the pen between your teeth," he advised with wisdom that defied description.

So if you don't enjoy my column, please don't call me in Wayne to tell me. I'll have to stand up to hear the bad news...

...And my self-worth would drop a few more points on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Bald Eagle Speaks

55 mph limit questioned

By BOB AMEEN

Being the writer of a personal column carries with it certain built-in liberties, such as being able to choose, almost without restriction, the topic upon which one wants to expound.

Something which happened a few short years ago because of the energy scare and the Arab oil embargo has really bugged me — the 55 mile-per-hour state and federal speed limit for drivers on our state and national highways.

I would be considered stupid, and rightly so, if I was to state that the reduced speed limit if rigidly observed, does not save on fuel used by millions of American motorists and in the number of accidents. But, that is not the only important consideration!

An old saying says something to the effect that one "shouldn't cut off his nose to spite his face." To me, that is just about what the 55 mph speed limit accomplishes.

State and national highways are built for motorists who are traveling long distances. They are so constructed, complete with banked curves, for speeds greater than used in city driving, so motorists can get from Point A to Point B with a minimum of time.

I can recall a decade or so back when many states were considering the adoption of 80 mph speed limits because the 70 mph limit then in existence was deemed obsolete. American cars with their huge cubic inches of displacement easily top 100 mph, some reach 120 to 130 mph with ease. Evidently, car builders of the last few years foresaw the time when much higher speed limits would be the order of the day or they would not have kept increasing size of car engines with resulting higher top speeds for year after year of production.

But, the propaganda generated by proponents of saving on gasoline consumption so panicked state and federal legislators that they hurriedly enacted legislation limiting highway speeds without considering its ramifications.

Today, motorists who try, and some doggedly do, to abide by the 55 mph speed limit, appear in this writer's observations, not only to be in the minority, but are actually risking their lives.

Scrupulously keeping their car's speed down to the required 55 mph or under, motorists find themselves passed repeatedly by other autos traveling anywhere from 60 to 90 mph. This situation poses a serious risk — being struck in the rear by cars who do not veer around slower-moving vehicles in sufficient time.

But, that possibility is minor compared to what could happen if one of the hundreds of truck-trailers weighing several tons hits the back of a much lighter car. And, believe me, many of those truck-trailers travel at speeds far in excess of the 55 mph speed limit. Why more of them are not stopped by police officers watching for speeders is beyond me, except for what could happen to the state's business image should too many trucks be stopped for speeding.

This type of accident in which a truck hits the back of a car could be compounded if another truck or another car is immediately in front. Then, the poor, law-abiding motorist is "sandwiched" in between and his car is reduced to a pile of twisted steel and shattered glass, resulting in serious injuries or death to the car's occupants.

In addition, a study showed that the 55 mph speed wastes more fuel than an average speed of about 62 mph, especially for big trucks which have to gear down for lower speeds.

Thus, not only is the 55 mph speed limit impractical in regard to fuel savings, it poses a serious threat to loss of life, limb and property because of inconsistent enforcement by police. Also, traveling at slower speeds means more time spent on highways, more time in which accidents, caused by a multitude of factors, can occur.

The frustration experienced by today's motorist in wanting to legally observe this ridiculous speed limit on the one hand, and, on the other, knowing he should go faster to increase fuel efficiency and possibly even to save the lives of himself and other occupants of his car, is unwarranted.

Surely, in today's age of technology and enlightenment, authorities can come up with an alternative or alternatives to better cope with a situation which jeopardizes the lives and personal property of millions of Americans.

Take a trip to Hell...Michigan, that is!

Bicycle tour covers 134 miles

(This is the 10th in a series of 15 weekly articles on bicycle touring through Michigan. These features are designed to encourage Michigan tourism and promote bicycling near population centers.)

You can go to Hell on a bicycle via a 184-mile tour through some of southern Michigan's prettiest lake and farm country, with stops outside the world's largest walled prison, inside the State Capitol and along two picturesque rivers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Hell is just 20 miles southwest of Brighton in Livingston County, and the Devil's Den gift shop and Dam Sight Inn are popular stops for tourists who want to tell the folks at home they have been to Hell and back.

For a 105-mile tour, bicyclists can head north from Hell to Gregory and take M-36 through miles of corn fields dotted with big red barns, Centennial farms and giant silos to Mason, the Ingham County seat. From there, it is just eight miles north to the State Capitol in Lansing, where tours are given every half-hour from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays and from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

After another stop at the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing, bikers can head back to Brighton via Michigan Avenue (M-143) and Grand River (M-43 and B.L. 96), breaking up the 36-mile trek with stops at Howell's Depot Museum and History Town, a restaurant-antique shop-flea market-amusement park complex just west of Brighton.

Bicyclists who feel up to extending their tour through Jackson, Calhoun and Eaton counties should head south on M-106 from Gregory to just outside Jackson, where they can see the world's largest walled prison—from a comfortable distance—and buy prisoner handicrafts at the Southern Michigan Prison Hobbycraft Shop. It is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

In Jackson, a plaque at the corner of Franklin and Second streets marks the spot where the national Republican Party (GOP) was born July 4, 1854. On the city's South Side, the Ella Sharp Museum complex—a Victorian farmhouse, 1-room schoolhouse, art gallery, pioneer log cabin, crossroads store and planetarium—is surrounded by 530 partly wooded acres making up Sharp Park.

The park is a delightful place to stop and rest, and bikers can visit the museum complex between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and between 1:30 and 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The planetarium is open by appointment only.

Another beautiful park—Sparks Foundation—is situated only a couple miles farther west, and its big attraction is the Cascades, a series of 16 waterfalls 500 feet long, 64 feet high and 60 feet wide. Nightly between 9 and 10:30 p.m. from Memorial Day through Labor Day, the waterfalls are illuminated by 1,230 colored lights that paint breathtaking pictures to the accompaniment of music.

The 12-mile ride from Jackson to Concord is along more winding 2-lane highway and past miles of corn fields studded with oil rigs pumping up and down. Follow M-60 past Spring Arbor College in Spring Arbor and stop in Concord at Mann House, a restored Victorian mansion just off the main street. The hours posted on the black wrought iron fence are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Another interesting Victorian mansion is the Gardner House Museum in Albion, about 11 miles north of Concord via M-99. It is open 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday throughout the summer. Built in the late 1800s, it fits right in with the many Albion College buildings which date back to the last century. Albion's Victory Park, where the branches of the Kalamazoo River meet, is the site of the annual Festival of the Forks, to be held Oct. 1 this year.

Heading north on M-99 to Eaton Rapids, bikers can cross a small bridge in the center of town and enjoy the peaceful serenity of Island Park, located smack in the middle of the Grand River.

A side trip down M-188 to the VFW National Home and back is eight miles of pedaling, but well worth it. A series of homes, each dedicated to a different state, houses children of deceased or disabled veterans from around the nation. There is a grocery store, clothing store and just about everything needed to make a self-sufficient community.

Traveling north to Lansing via Waverly Road and M-99 is a 20-mile trip through more rich farmland. The route passes the giant Oldsmobile plant before reaching the State Capitol complex. Heading east to link up to Grand River and the trip back to Brighton, bicyclists can stop along the way on Michigan State University's tree-shaded campus.

There are campgrounds and motels all along the route, and almost every town has a delightful park to enjoy. Brighton's Mill Pond City Park is especially delightful with its old-fashioned gazebo and dozens of ducks and ducklings.

Bicyclists should pace themselves according to their ability. The League of American Wheelmen estimates the average bicyclist can cover 35 to 50 miles a day with ease. A card and pamphlet containing bicycle safety tips are available free at all Automobile Club of Michigan offices.

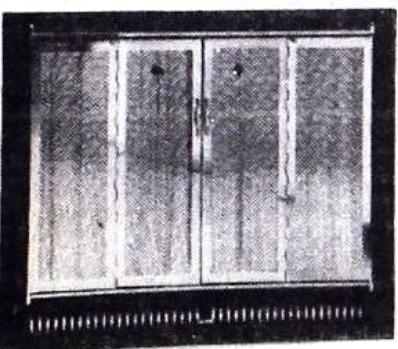

You can send a postcard from Hell, "do time" at Jacktown (but at a safe distance from the world's largest walled prison) or visit the State Capitol on a 184-mile bicycle tour through some of southern Michigan's prettiest lake and farm country. The complete circle bike tour outlined by Automobile Club of Michigan connects Brighton in Livingston County with Jackson in Jackson County, Albion in Calhoun County and Lansing in Ingham County. For a 105-mile trip, bicyclists can head north after seeing what Hell looks like and pedal to Lansing before returning to Brighton via Grand River. Jackson's illuminated Cascades fountain and Ella Sharp Museum complex, restored Victorian mansions in Concord and Albion and the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing are highlights of the trip, which covers miles of corn fields dotted with oil rigs pumping rhythmically up and down. There are campgrounds and motels all along the route, and almost every town has a delightful community park.

The Rotating Pulpit

Call it 'Spiritual Intuition'

THE REV. C.E. MARTIN
Pastor
Middlebelt Baptist Church of Inkster

"But ye have an unction (an anointing) from the Holy One and ye know all things." 1 John 2:20

With all the different religions, beliefs, and opinions of right and wrong, how can a Christian determine what is right and what is wrong? In 1 John 2:18, John is giving a warning against the antichrists.

Today, people need warnings from God sent messengers. But these messengers are not always available. So, what is a person supposed to do when the dedicated preacher or other messengers of God are not available?

Notice John in writing to young believers the assurance was that each believer has an unction. With some of us, we get a feeling that certain things are going to happen. It is a kind of intuition, a kind of insight, a second sight that something, which has not happened will happen. In some families there are persons who are always predicting things. They have a feeling or a definite impression upon them. With some, this can evolve into fanaticism. The person can go off the deep end. They can become dreamers. They may create things in their imagination. In spite of what we say and think about intuition, there are those who are forewarned in exact, precise and accurately by God.

Can a Christian know? Can a Christian make the distinction between the false prophet and the genuine, God called, motivated and directed leader, messenger, pastor, prophet, church worker?

At the time that John wrote his letter to young Christians, the antichrists were those who left the faith, those who turned from the church and the work of Jesus Christ as controlled and supervised by the Holy Spirit. Today, there is the person who is not only young in the faith of Christian religion, there are likewise older persons who are mixed up as the results of all the various teachings, religions and so-called followers of Jesus.

How can you really know you have been born again? How can you know you are living the Christian life? How can you know that you are in the right church or following the right teachings? The best way to find out who is right and what is right is to make sure you have divine connections and be sure that your new life, your saved self, your new birth, your salvation is the results of the redemptive work of Jesus Christ.

Christ has a divine relationship with the believers. Without a doubt, Christ informs redeemed persons about the proper course, route, or road to take in life. The Holy Spirit decides for the believer. There is no gray area. The Holy Spirit is our only assurance of making right decisions. It is through Christ that we have stability. Christ was anointed with the Spirit in all fullness. In 2 Cor. 5:5, we find that the believer in Christ "the one Believer" who has been convicted by the Holy Spirit also receives an anointing. In this, each believer is empowered by the gift or work of the Holy Spirit to announce the truth which he or she has learned. Read John 14:26. "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost (Spirit) whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said to you."

In this kind of relationship, that is the one where the Holy Spirit is the teacher and the activator of recall, one does not quence the Holy Spirit. In the event that a person is not able to make the proper distinction between right and wrong, that person has not been in school with the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit does not bring to remembrance that which has not been taught. In the anointing by the Holy Spirit, there is a learning process. But, this learning process is supervised by the Holy Spirit.

Satan is a master teacher for those who have not been taught by the Holy Spirit. Satan is sensitive to the sinful lusts of humans. He knows what appeals to the flesh, and what turns the human mind on.

In the Garden of Eden, Eve found that Satan was a master of deceit who trains his followers in the mastery of deception. Many men, women, teen-agers and children are depressed and emotionally disturbed because the master of deception has victimized thousands daily in every city, suburb and county.

The deceiver who challenged Jesus in the wilderness of temptation does not stop with individuals, as he is invading organizations and huge corporations. The deceiver is using ministers, deacons, church members to fleece the masses instead of feeding them God's word. The deceiver is a liar, he is false and untrue.

When I was a boy, there was a song by Rosetta Tharpe which said, "Don't take everybody to be your friend, always bear in mind a true friend is hard to find." Approximately 41 years ago I found a true friend in Jesus Christ. The dedicated Sunday School teachers, my grandfather and grandmother, a few soul-stirred, regenerated, motivated Christians showed me that a change can take place in your life when Jesus Christ takes over.

Jesus, God's Son, came to pay the sin debt that God had against a sinner like me. All of us are born with the sinful nature. All of us need a true, friend like Jesus to walk with us, talk with us and tell us that we are His own. What a friend we have in Jesus!

Jesus has given His Holy Spirit to comfort, guide, teach, anoint and direct us. Jesus can and will direct our spiritual intuition and total being as long as we stay in the classroom with Him and allow Christ to take control for His glory and His honor.

WCCC registration opens for fall term

Wayne County Community College (WCCC) is set to start its eighth year of instruction and has begun registration for the fall 1977 term.

The youngest of Michigan's 29 community colleges, WCCC has grown to become the second largest in terms of enrollment, with some 20,000 students attending during a school year.

Classes for the 16-week fall term begin Aug. 25.

Tuition is $14 per credit hour for residents of the WCCC service district, which includes most of Wayne County. Senior citizens 60 years of age and older may enroll tuition-free.

Any person 18 years of age or older may enroll in basic college courses without a high school diploma. Some of the vocational career programs, such as nursing, require completion of certain prerequisites prior to formal application for admission.

Courses are available in general college transfer and career programs leading to an associate degree or a certificate. Classes will be held at 21 locations in Wayne County.

Students register by alphabet according to the first letter of the last name, according to the following schedule:

—C-G, today; H-L, Friday; M-R, Monday; S-Z next Wednesday, and

A-B, Aug. 19. (There is no registration on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the period.)

Students who missed their assigned day can register on Aug. 20.

The locations and times of registration through Aug. 19 are:

—Day and evening, Cathedral, 60 Belmont, Detroit, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m.; Greenfield, 8551 Greenfield, Detroit, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.; Milton, 1771 Henry Ruff, Inkster, 1 to 4 p.m.; Nativity, 9330 Shoemaker, Detroit, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.; and Patrick, 129 Superior, Wyandotte, 1 to 4:30 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.

—Evening only, Ford, 20000 Evergreen, Detroit, 6 to 9 p.m.; Glenn, 36105 Marquette, Westland, 6 to 8:30 p.m.; Grosse Pointe North, 707 Vernier, Grosse Pointe, 6 to 8:30 p.m.; Kennedy, 13505 Pine, Taylor, 6 to 8:30 p.m.; and Osborne, 11600 E. Seven Mile Road, Detroit, 6 to 9 p.m.

The last day of registration—Aug. 20—will be non-alphabetical and will be held at Cathedral, Greenfield, Milton, Nativity, Park and Patrick centers at the same day hours listed above. There will be no evening registration that day.

Classes during the fall term also will be held at Aero Mechanics High School, 10200 Erwin, Detroit;

Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia, Belleville; Computer Services Center, 2036 Woodward Avenue, Detroit; Finney High School, 17200 Southhampton, Detroit; Huron High School, 32044 Huron River Drive, New Boston; Mooney Center, 9333 Linwood, Detroit; Northwestern High School, 6300 Grand River Detroit; Pearson Junior High School, 19990 Beech, Detroit; Riverview High School, 12431 Longsdorf, Riverview; and Western High School, 1500 Scotten, Detroit.

For further information, call the college at 832-1234.

Players perform 'Three on a Horse'

"Three Men on a Horse", a popular comedy that was first a Broadway hit in 1935, will be presented by the Greenfield Village Players at Henry Ford Museum on Friday and Saturday evenings now through Sept. 3.

By making advance reservations, individuals or groups can not only enjoy the play, but also can take advantage of the Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum Dinner Theater Evening.

The play is about a greeting card poet with an unerring knack for picking horse race winners. He flees his wife, his boss and suburbia, and becomes involved with three soft-hearted gangsters. It was written by George Abbott and Cecil Holm.

The dinner theater begins with a buffet dinner at 7 p.m., followed by the live theater presentation at 8:30 p.m. The cost $9.75 a person covers dinner, the theater, and all taxes and tips. Cocktails are optional. The cost is $3 for those only attending the theater presentation.

Theater seat reserations may be made by calling Henry Ford Museum at 271-1620, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily

Give us a cheer!

The football cheerleaders of Belleville's North Junior High School displayed some of their best form during the recent Cheerleaders Spirit Conference, held at Eastern Michigan University recently in Ypsilanti. The conference, an annual summer affair at the university, is a 1-week competitive workshop open to all junior and senior high school cheerleading squads. Giving a rousing cheer in a photo session during the conference were Lorri Gott (from left, sitting), Evelyn Pool, Kim Warren, Kelli Kosmalski (from left, standing), Shonda Hall, Becky Adamson, Elayne Newton and Shellie Bills. On top are Lynnette Bailey and Cheryl Newport.

Landlords, tenants benefit in pilot program, HOUSE

A pilot project, initiated last April by the Department of Social Services (DSS) and the Housing Owners of the United States Exchange (HOUSE), indicates that cooperation between landlords and the department can be beneficial for all concerned.

The project was initiated after a series of discussions between HOUSE president Charles Costa and DSS Housing Bureau Chief Ann Marie Sims indicated a longstanding misconception regarding the department's ability to respond in cases where welfare recipients do not pay their rent.

Federal guidelines allow direct rental payments to a landlord when welfare recipients fail to manage their money properly.

Through the project HOUSE and DSS succeeded in streamlining existing procedures, opening lines of communication and assuring timely departmental response to HOUSE complaints.

Under the 2-month project, a landlord who had not been paid rent by a recipient for one or more months was supposed to notify HOUSE and file a complaint. HOUSE would then investigate the charges and refer the complaint to the Department of Social Services. If the complaint was valid, rent payments were made directly to the landlord instead of the welfare tenant.

From April 4 to June 4 the DSS received 209 referrals from HOUSE. Of these: 78 (or 37 percent) were returned to HOUSE because they involved rent which was above the county shelter maximum or closed or pending public assistance cases. Of the remaining 131 referrals, 46, (or 35 percent), resulted in direct rental payments and/or payment of rental arrearage. This amounts to total payments to landlords during the 2-month project of over $18,000.

An additional 45 cases were denied for other reasons, such as, relocation of recipients, no evidence of mismanagement or landlord tenant disputes regarding housing maintenance.

"I am very pleased," Costa said. "This is a long needed step in the right direction. HOUSE intends to continue to improve this relationship and open lines of communication in other areas necessary to the preservation of the housing stock."

Mrs. Sims added: "Through this program we have recognized a common goal — assuring the availability of decent housing at a price recipients can afford. Achievement of this goal must involve an acknowledgement of the responsibilities of both landlord and tenant. This program has succeeded in communicating what these responsibilities are."

There's plenty to do for lawn and garden

What's to do in the garden and around the home this month? Plenty! And Michigan State University Extension specialists offer these suggestions:

- Cut back perennials after the foliage begins to die.
- Remove some of the lateral buds and thin the side shoots on dahlias to stimulate them to produce larger flowers from the buds that remain. Stake and tie the plants as needed.
- Take cuttings from fuchsia, wax begonias, impatiens, coleus and geraniums for growing indoors this winter.
- Transplant and divide peonies, iris, phlox and garden lilies as necessary.
- Prepare beds for spring flowering bulbs. Order bulbs for November planting.
- Stop fertilizing roses before Aug. 15. Later fertilization would spur new growth that would be very susceptible to winter injury.
- Keep pinching the faded flowers and seed heads from flowering annuals. If allowed to go to seed, they will produce no more flowers. Pinch the tops of petunias to keep the plants short and bushy.
- Bagworms feeding on ornamentals cannot be controlled by spraying now. Pick the bags off and destroy them.
- Check maples and other trees for aphids. Look for notched, curled leaves, glossy and sticky with honeydew. If aphid predators like ladybugs are present in large numbers, let them handle the problem. If predators are scarce, you can spray with malathion. This late in the season, however, the aphids cannot do any serious damage, so spraying is not strongly recommended.
- Azaleas and oak trees with green-veined, yellow leaves are suffering from an iron deficiency. Apply iron chelates as a soil drench to correct this.
- Do not fertilize trees or shrubs now. This would stimulate late growth that would be susceptible to winter injury.
- Check trees and shrubs transplanted in the past year or two to make sure they are not being girdled by guy wires. Remove any wire or nylon rope placed around the base of the trunk or main branches at transplanting.
- Use Sevin, lindane or malathion to control lacebugs on sycamore, honeylocust and other ornamentals. Always use Sevin with extreme care; it is highly toxic to honeybees.
- Establish a new lawn or renovate an old one between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15. Research at MSU has shown this to be the best time for lawn establishment in Michigan.
- Fertilize established lawns in late August with a complete fertilizer.
- Do not use lawn herbicides or weed-and-feed compounds containing silvex when the temperature is higher than 75 degrees. At high temperatures, silvex can damage the lawn and landscape ornamentals.

- Remove dead grass that has matted down in your lawn.
- Prepare and seed bare spots in your lawn. Water daily — more than once, if necessary — during dry weather until the new grass is firmly established.
- If white grubs and sod webworms are damaging your lawn, treat the turf with dursban or diazinon, according to label directions.
- Thin fall vegetables planted last month.
- Plant beans, peas, lettuce, beets and radishes for a fall harvest.
- Look for signs of the corn earworm and the European corn borer feeding in sweet corn. Spray with Sevin, if necessary.
- Check tomato plants for tomato hornworms. Pick the worms off by hand and destroy them. Or spray with Bacillus thuringiensis, a bacterial disease that affects only caterpillars.

- Prune out raspberry and blackberry canes that fruited this year. They will not bear again.

— If your tomatoes were struck by fusarium or verticillium wilt, make a note to buy resistant varieties next year.

- Make a map of your garden so you can rotate the plants next year. Moving crops around so that plants that are susceptible to the same diseases do not follow each other in the same spots will help limit garden disease problems.

— Harvest onions for storage after the tops turn brown and fall over.

- Dig potatoes after the tops die.

— Harvest beans, cucumbers, radishes, carrots and other vegetables as they are ready. If you allow cucumbers, summer squash and similar fruits to mature on the plants, the plants will stop producing.

- Cover celery for 12 to 15 days to keep light off the plants and make the stalks grow paler.

— Tomatoes with leafspot, early blight and late blight should be sprayed with maneb or tomato sprays containing coppers.

- To whiten the heads of cauliflower, wrap them when they are two to three inches in diameter in the larger leaves of the plant. They are ready for harvest when they reach a diameter of six inches. Self-blanching and green-headed varieties do not require this treatment.

Edison to offer special rate for seniors

The Detroit Edison Co. last week filed a rate case with the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC).

requesting price adjustments for 1978 and approval to institute a special electric rate for senior citizens, the first of its kind in the country.

For the average senior citizen household, which uses 333 kilowatt-hours a month, the savings would be $1.16 a month, or 7 percent, compared to the proposed new standard rates for the same electricity use by other residential customers.

About 275,000 households, or nearly 20 percent of the company's 1.5 million residential customers, would be eligible for the new senior citizens' rate, if approved by the PSC.

"This proposed new rate recognizes the unique problems faced by the elderly who, for the most part, are getting along on fixed, and often relatively low, incomes compared to their neighbors," said Detroit Edison chairman and chief executive officer William G. Meese. "Detroit Edison is concerned about the impact of rising electrical rates on people in these special circumstances."

The proposed new rate takes into account differences in electrical use patterns between senior citizens and other customers, as well as differences between the company's cost of providing service for senior citizens and other customers.

At the same time, Edison applied for approval of a 5.5 percent price adjustment for 1978 to recognize the continuing impact of inflation. This would add about $1.70 a month to the average residential customer's monthly bill. The utility's industrial and commercial customers also would be subject to 5.5 percent electricity price adjustments.

The utility also applied for an increase of 1 percent in its authorized rate of return on the investment made by the company's common shareholders, which would add about 71 cents (2.2 percent) a month to the average residential customer's bill, to enable it to raise, at lower costs, capital required to build new generating plants needed for the anticipated growth in electrical use in the coming years.

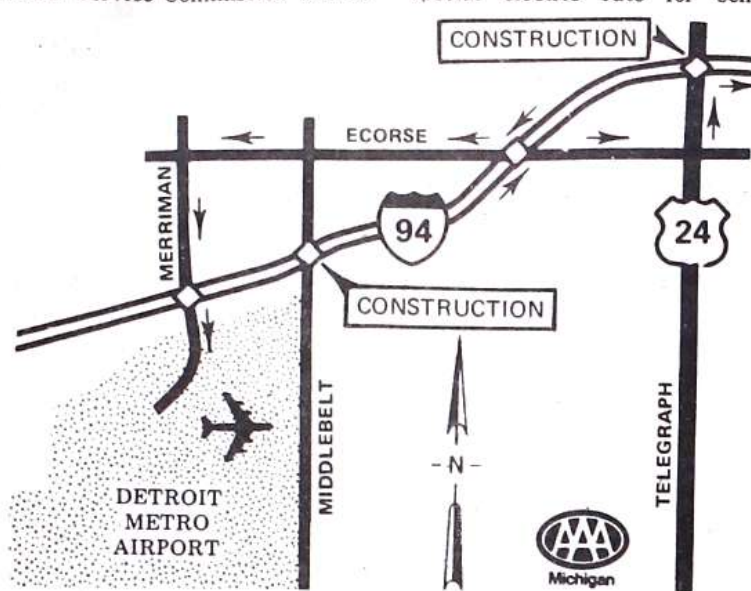

An accounting change also has been requested that would increase depreciation rates to more properly reflect the wearing out and obsolescence of plants and equipment experienced by the utility, adding about 27 cents a month (0.9 percent) to the average residential bill.

The total amount requested by Detroit Edison in its new rate case is $122,285,000, or an increase of 8.6 percent, which would add $2.68 a month to the average residential bill, other than for senior citizens. Of the total amount, the company has requested $69,860,000 in immediate interim relief to offset current revenue deficiencies resulting from rates inadequate to permit it to earn the rate of return (13.5 percent) on the investment of its common shareholders, already approved by the PSC.

If granted by the PSC, the total package of price adjustments requested would produce about $62 million in additional income for the company—after taxes.

Under construction

Motorists traveling I-94 near Detroit Metropolitan Airport face two construction zones which could cause travel delays, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. Bridge resurfacing has reduced westbound I-94 from three to two lanes at Middle Belt and eastbound I-94 to one lane at Telegraph. All Westbound lanes should be open Saturday with eastbound lanes closed until mid-August. Westbound motorists headed for the airport can exit at and follow Ecorse Road to southbound Merriman. Eastbound traffic can exit at and follow Ecorse to northbound Telegraph, which connects with I-94 just past the construction point there.

Halls residing in Romulus after honeymoon in Poconos

The Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania was the honeymoon destination for the newly wed Randy L. Halls following their June wedding and reception in Romulus. After the 1-week trip they took up residence at 36821 Porter St., Romulus.

Pamela M. Ondash, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ondash of 37714 Walnut Dr., Romulus, became Mrs. Hall in an afternoon ceremony at St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The Rev. John Buehner, assisted by Deacon John Budde, presided at the double ring rite.

Two arrangements of peach-colored gladiolas and white mums graced the altar for the four o'clock nuptials. Musical selections for the occasion included "Hawaiian Wedding Song", "With These Hands", "The Wedding Song" and "Morning Has Broken." During "Ave Maria" the bride walked to the altar of the Virgin Mary where she placed a bouquet of roses.

Some 135 relatives and friends saw Pam escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding day she selected a toe-touching Galina creation of silk organza, the high-necked bodice of venise lace being styled with softly capped sleeves and a little fitted waistline. The lace motif was repeated in appliques on the skirt front and again in a scalloped hemline which drifted into a chapel length train.

As her "something old", Pam wore the silk garter which had been her mother's on her wedding day 22 years ago.

A Camelot headpiece of matching venise lace secured her finger-tip illusion veil while a hand bouquet of phaelenopsis orchids and croton leaves intertwined with six silk peach roses, completed her bridal finery.

Mary Hughes, the bride's close friend from Plymouth, was honor attendant with Diane McClain of Dearborn Heights; Marval McIntosh of Belleville, and Emma Jordan of Detroit, the bride's cousin, as bridesmaids.

The quartet appeared in identical aqua mint polyester Bianchi frocks designed with cap sleeves and Roman style V-necklines. Their headgear was comprised of silk peach roses, baby's breath and aqua star flowers which they wore to one side of their heads. Their flowers matched those carried by the bride.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Shiril Hall of 14200 Cogswell Rd., Romulus, the bridegroom asked his best friend, Steve Dziurkowski of Detroit, to serve as best man. Groomsmen were Denny McShane of Livonia; John Nehila of Romulus and Michael Britz of Ypsilanti.

For the occasion, Mrs. Ondash chose to wear a blossom chiffon accented with a beaded bodice to which she pinned her phaelenopsis orchid corsage. Mrs. Hall, the bridegroom's mother, donned an aqua polyester gown designed with a pleated bodice. Her corsage was comprised of white silk roses with aqua touches.

At the reception which followed at Roma's of Ann Arbor, the 140 guests included out-of-staters from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Arkansas and California.

Both young people are graduates of Romulus High School, the bridegroom having earned his diploma in 1971 and his wife in 1975. The new Mrs. Hall is employed by the Automobile Club of Michigan in Dearborn while her husband is with N.A.P.A. Detroit Distribution Center in Romulus.

The rehearsal party, held at Baldo's in Romulus, was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Matchmake sunny pears

There's a touch of the matchmaker hidden in every woman, and it doesn't apply only to selecting the most compatible guests for her next party. Actually, it's at work in all the other homemaking arts, whether dreaming up a tempting menu or choosing the perfect centerpiece to complement a table setting.

Matchmaking has its place in jam making, and this is where you can show off flair. Not only is it wise to be economy minded nowadays — to take advantage of all those fresh fruits in markets today for tomorrow's enjoyment — but also to show off a little creative knowhow by making something you can't buy.

For everything there is a season, and it's true with pear varieties, ranging from summer through early fall and late winter. Now is the time to matchmate pears with cranberries in a Pear and Cranberry Jam easily made with chopped pears, ground cranberries, and grated orange rind. The tart and tangy cranberries perk up the subtleness of pears and give the bonus of exciting color, too.

Prepare the jam the easy no-cook (or "freezer") way. Sure-Jell Fruit Pectin makes it possible to stir this one up without cooking the fruit, insuring fresh-picked flavor for months to come.

Revel in the fact you'll always have a delectable homemade jam on hand for coming holidays; they're perfect hostess gifts, too. It's never too early to think in advance about gifts from your kitchen.

Recipes for jams and jellies come along with packages of powdered and liquid fruit pectin, including freezer jams that store in the freezer for six months! Even if you're a novice at preserving, you'll soon have a shelf full of glowing jams and jellies that capture the fresh fruit flavors at their peak.

Pear and Cranberry Jam

3 cups prepared fruit (about 2 lb. fully ripe Bartlett pears and 1 lb. cranberries)
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
5 cups (2 1/4 lb.) sugar
3/4 cup water
1 box (1 3/4 oz.) powdered fruit pectin

First prepare the containers. Use only containers 1 pint or less in size that have tight-fitting lids. Wash, scald, and drain containers and lids; or use automatic dishwasher with really hot (150 degrees or higher) rinse water.

Then prepare the fruit. Peel, core, and finely chop about 2 pounds pears. Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Grind about 1 pound cranberries. Measure 1 cup and add to pears. Stir in orange rind.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruits; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature until set (may take up to 24 hours); then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in the refrigerator. Makes 7 cups or about 7 (8-oz.) containers.

Blender Method: An electric blender can be used to chop or grind fruits — place a few pieces at a time into blender container so blades are just covered, cover container, and turn control from off to low several times until fruit is chopped or ground as specified in recipe. (Do not puree.)

Around town

Michigan's U.P. is her great love

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Received a very nice letter from a former Belleville area resident who periodically lets us know what's going on in the "rest of Michigan" — mainly her beloved Upper Peninsula.

Mrs. Alberta L. (Birk) Dempsey, who just recently enjoyed a visit from her daughter and family, the James Albertsons of Denton Road, says "I cannot extoll all that is the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as is deserving. See it once and you will wish to return."

(We often wonder if the U.P.'s tourist bureau is aware that Mrs. D. is one of its best state promoters.)

She began her letter thusly — "It is indeed sad that so many Lower Peninsula folks do not realize the ever increasing beauties of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. You can take your surf board and ride the ocean waves but DO come up above "Big Mac" and try the breakers and hear them roar against the rocks.

We have boundless attractions in both winter and summer; however people must be made aware of the fact that this north country has as much to offer as the south.

Once you are attracted to it, a magnetism forms and draws you back. Go to the very end of U.S.-41 which will take you to Fort Wilkins (restored today as it was during the days of Indian warfare.) See it and you will never forget it. The famous Brockway Drive, once called a "folly", is breathtaking in its grandeur."

She continues, "I call Brevort home now and find that the people are sincere, kind and honest; most of them being descendants of early fishermen in a hard working community. I have much to learn and see of this area as yet but this is what makes life interesting.

Soon, in September, we will once again see the reenactment of the establishment of the mission by Jacques Marquette on the shores of Moran Bay in St. Ignace.

I miss my Belleville-Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor friends and relatives but Lake Michigan's waters and shores are home now and the beauty and tranquility here mesmerize all who visit this land of enchantment and venture."

We get the message loud and clear, Mrs. Dempsey — there's no doubt you're in love with that peninsula that surrounds you.

August bride-elect is 'showered'

Eighteen guests, including co-workers and her mother, were on hand Aug. 2 to honor Janet Saunders who's to become Mrs. Dennis Flessland on the 19th of August.

Jan, who works as a keyliner in the production department of Associated Newspapers, had the fun of opening scads of pretty gifts for her future home — an apartment in Champaign, Ill. Gifts ranged from beautiful handmade macrame hangers (made by her mother, Mrs. Bella Saunders) to pressed glass and pewter accessories.

Co-hostesses at the six o'clock dinner shower were Jan's co-workers, Pam Haase of Belleville and Jackie Lyles of Taylor. Held at the Haase home on East Huron River Drive, the evening began with wine punch and a number game for which some dozen potted plants and note paper prizes were claimed.

Guests came from Westland, Taylor, Garden City, Wayne, Southgate and Belleville for the occasion.

Jan and Dennis have reserved St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Westland for their summer wedding.

Reunion takes group to Iowa

Invitations to the 50th reunion of the Krahs family in Marshalltown, Iowa prompted the trip which local residents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wells, enjoyed recently.

Receiving the family newsletter early in May, the Wellses decided that this year their summer vacation would center around a meeting-with-the-clan out in the Great Plains area. With their daughter and son-in-law, Louise and Bo Schley of Novi, they traveled via motor home leaving Belleville July 15 and returning July 30.

Enroute to the family confab held in an outlying public park near Marshalltown, the foursome stopped to visit the Schley's former neighbors, Don and Diane Vernier in Joliet, Ill. Their timing coincided with the silver wedding anniversary party for Mrs. Vernier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hauser, which they attended.

The half-century gathering of the Krahs clan found aunts, uncles and cousins arriving from Cedar Falls, Waterloo, Grinnell, Toledo and Marion, Iowa; Rock Island and Skokie, Ill.; Omaha, Neb. and Michigan. The day-long activities included a co-operative picnic dinner, games and sports contests, election of officers and a reading of the family history.

During their 5-day stay the Michigan visitors were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Krahs and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ziegler of Marshalltown, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilkie of Grinnell and Miss Esther Krahs of Toledo.

Kleemans arrive from Germany for visit

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kleeman with children, Andrea, Alissa and Jonathan, arrived Aug. 1 from Wurzburg, Germany to spend three weeks with Mrs. Kleeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Riggs of Savage Road, and her brother and family, David Riggs of South Street, and other relatives and friends.

On Monday, Aug. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of West Columbia Avenue, their daughter, Mrs. Richard Smith of East Huron River Drive and a second daughter, Mrs. Marvin Dann of Saline, motored to Jackson where they called on the Deering's youngest daughter, Mrs. Douglas, (Verna) Kobish at Foote Hospital. They saw her new baby boy born Saturday, July 30, weight 7 lbs.-7 ozs.

The Kobishes have two other children, Christopher, four, and Teresa, two, who were waiting to welcome their mother and baby brother, Dewayne Douglas, home from the hospital.

Mrs. Carl (Mary) Mumford of Fret Road has returned home after having spent the past two weeks with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Halverson and family at Medical Lake, Wash. While there she visited Spokane, Cooley Dam, Priest Lake, Mt. Spokane and Coeur D'Alene, Idaho.

Guests for several days this past week at the Martinsville Road home of Mr. and Mrs. William Overman were the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Hemby and children, Tommy and Betty; also their two grandchildren, Glenn Newman and Bradley Hemby, from Lexington, Tenn. They left for home last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Plourde of Harpers Ferry, W. Va. are the proud parents of a baby boy born July 30, weight, 9 lbs. The young man, who is their first child, has been named Shawn Peter.

Mrs. Plourde is the former Gayle Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Walls of Savage Road. The proud great-grandmother is Mrs. May Chapman of Belleville Road.

Mrs. Betty Fulton is now convalescing at her home on Liberty Street after having been a patient for 10 days at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia where she underwent major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street spent several days last week with the former's sister and husband, former Quirk Road residents, Mr. and Mrs. Troye Lambert at Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Bemis Road have returned home after enjoying a two weeks vacation at Niagara Falls, Kingston, Ontario, and the 1000 Islands. They also spent a day at Fulton, N.Y. with Mrs. Hazel Wylie and returned home over the scenic route in the Adirondacks.

After having been away for the past four weeks, Mrs. Ray Van Sickle of Liberty Street returned home last week from Manhattan, Kans. where she had been with her grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ferguson and their daughter, Heather. Michael, who is with the U.S. Army, is now Band Master at Ft. Riley, Kans. having recently received his promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Thompson and daughters of High Street returned home, July 30 following a 2-weeks vacation. Going first to Coldwater, they attended the Michigan D.C.A. Convention, then went to Elkhorn, Wisc., where they attended the National Square Dance Campers Association.

While in Wisconsin they visited the Dells, House on the Rock and Spring Green. Enroute home they spent a few days camping at Deer Park near Lake Superior and at Otsego Lake State Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens of East Huron River Drive and daughter, Suzanne of Liberty Street, spent several days last week at Clam Lake near Bellaire.

Rebecca and David Skeans have returned to their home on East Huron River Drive after having spent the past six weeks with their paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Skeans at Martin, Ky.

Mrs. Bill Jones of Allen Park was a luncheon guest last Monday of her friend, Mrs. Charles McKelvey of Bemis Road.

On Sunday, July 31, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland Street were among those who attended the Wittkop family reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boldt of Petersburg. Others present came from Detroit, Monroe and Dundee.

Among the 42 who were present was an aunt, Josie Reaum, 92 years of age, from Dundee, the youngest being 9-months-old, Renea Godfrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Godfrey of Dundee, and the great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boldt of Belleville.

Charlie Walls of Atlanta, Ga. and Seng Moon Ching from Malaysia (missionaries connected with Emmanuel Baptist Church) were houseguests this past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker of East Huron River Drive.

After having spent the past three weeks at Leesburg, Va. with her son, Roy and family, Mrs. Juanita Akers returned to her home on Liberty Street on Aug. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wright of Ypsilanti and Mrs. S.R. Hamilton of East Huron River Drive were recent callers on Mrs. Kenneth Fehlig of Dearborn. Mrs. Fehlig is recovering from recent major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welt and family of Willis Road recently enjoyed a 10-day vacation trip through Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. Among the interesting places visited were Kings Island in Ohio; Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, and the covered bridges and Amish country in Indiana.

Tracy and Wendy Traskos, children of the Larry Traskos' of Riggs Road, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Longworth and family of Plymouth.

Mrs. Glenn Nickelson of Rawsonville Road and daughter, Carolyn, returned home last Wednesday night from Jacksonville, where Carolyn had spent the past year and recently graduated from Normandy Beauty College.

Callers on Sunday of last week on Mrs. Joseph Spring were her sister, Mrs. W.F. Hasse of Dearborn, and the latter's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Randall and three children, Loren, Christine and Jeffrey from Reston, Va.

The 103rd annual Riggs family reunion with 42 members present from Northville, Ypsilanti and Belleville was held at Ypsilanti Township Park on Textile Road Sunday, July 31. Next year's co-ordinators will be Keith Wright from Northville and Richard Smith of Belleville with the help of secretaries, Phyllis Smith and Patti Flavell of Belleville.

Farmers invited to meeting on Grain Dollars and Sense

Energy. Under the two-headed treat of rising energy costs and slumping farm market prices, how can farmers manage their energy needs for this year's corn harvest?

The Grain Dollars and Sense farm meeting examines grain handling practices for maximum energy conservation. Slated for Tuesday, Aug. 16, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., the session will be at Columbia Central High School, 11775 Hewitt Road, west of Brooklyn at Lake Columbia.

Area farmers, elevator managers, equipment dealers and fuel suppliers are urged to attend. Northern Propane Gas Company and Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service sponsor Grain Dollars and Sense. The morning winds up with a free luncheon and door prizes.

Exploring corn practices and energy, Harold Spink, Jackson Extension director, will discuss hybrid selection for moisture, planting dates and fertilizer. Robert Maddex, MSU agricultural engineer, will detail energy conservation in a drying system, alternate fuel and storage management.

Methods of drying will then be discussed by Richard Kinkham, Butler Manufacturing Company. He will continue with information on selecting dryers, storage bins and handling equipment.

Art Wicke, Grain Handling Systems, McConnell, will go on to the operation of gas controls, use of liquids and vapors, dryer maintenance and safety.

Howard Kelsey, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, will zero in on financing drying and storage equipment.

Propane supply and distribution will be discussed by Jim Cross, Northern Propane Gas Company. He will focus on the manufacturing of propane gas, sources and supplies, distribution and outlook for availability.

Grain Dollars and Sense is an annual meeting. The information program will also be in Tuscola County Aug. 15; St. Joseph County Aug. 17; and Allegan County Aug. 18.

Jack and Pat Guenther, who operate Guenther's Marina on Edison Lake Road, Belleville, are happily announcing the arrival of their second grandchild, a baby boy.

Born to their son and daughter-in-law, Scott and Leann Guenther of 1582 Berkshire, Westland, the infant arrived at 1:34 p.m. Aug. 2 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Weighing in at 7 lbs., 8½ ozs. and measuring 22-inches in length, the new heir was titled "Ryan Scott."

The new mother, the former Leann Monit, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monit of Westland.

Remember when?

The hair styles alone are enough to let readers know that this is not a current photograph. Taken during the stay of Edward J. Downing, who was director of Belleville High School Bands from 1961 to 1968, the picture shows Downing (at right) instructing three members of his musical "team" — Philip Warsop, Bob Sharp and Nancy Wall. Downing was the sixth in a series of band leaders who oversaw the musical talents of BHS students over the past 50 years; this year bringing the golden anniversary celebration to a close.

Belleville group joins in vote

Michigan woman elected to office in National BPW

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., BPW, had the distinction of holding the first convention in the new Convention Center in Louisville, Ky., July 24-28. The Michigan Federation endorsed Miss Phillis J. Harrison of the Royal Oak Club as a candidate for the office of third vice-president and on Tuesday, July 26, Miss Harrison won election to the office.

Four members of the Belleville BPW Club drove to Louisville to participate in the convention activities. Ruth Davis, president, was the delegate; Georgia Badgett, recording secretary, the alternate. Irene Christie, vice-president, and Helen White, a past president, went along for moral support.

The national delegates were honored to be greeted by Kentucky's Governor, Julian Carroll, at the official opening of the business session on July 25. He had also attended the Kentucky breakfast earlier in the day and closed his greetings by leading the group in singing "My Old Kentucky Home."

On July 26, an emergency request to suspend the rules of order, (in order to issue a call for an equal rights amendment ratification assembly in Houston, Texas) resulted in the motion initiated by BPW's past national presidents. In its final amendment form the motion was passed and BPW will sponsor a meeting in Houston, Texas during the week of Nov. 12, 1977. A report of the ERA action was released on an exclusive basis to UPI and will be picked up on the national wire services.

The convention closed with the installation of officers on July 28. Mrs. Piliari C. Desha of Hilo, Hawaii is the president for 1977-78. Orchids and anthuriums made a beautiful stage setting for the installation ceremonies which were followed by a reception for all the new officers.

The Belleville group took an Ohio boat trip on the Belle of Louisville, attended the Derby Dinner Playhouse where they dined and saw the stage play, "Hanky Panky" starring Richard Egan; and ended the week by taking a bus trip to Nashville, Tenn. On Friday they toured the city and Saturday spent several hours in Opryland before attending the Grand Ole Opry Saturday night. Bardtown, Ky. was the next stop after the bus return to Louisville on Sunday. After visiting the gift shop and My Old Kentucky Home in My Old Kentucky, Home State Park, the four-some attended the Stephen Foster drama held in the amphitheatre. Their return to Belleville on Aug. ended a 10-day trip of work and pleasure.

Chambers secretaries hold meet at Hillside

The Chamber Secretaries monthly luncheon meeting was held at the Hillside Inn of Plymouth with Jan Curlee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce as hostess.

On the agenda for discussion were the dues structure of each individual chamber and also chamber hospitalization insurance.

Attending the get-together were Leona Van Buhler of Belleville; Diane Smith of Livonia; Joyce Wheeler of Westland; Donna McEachern of Wayne; Mary Dingledey and Mary Smith of Canton and Monika Leidheiser of Roseville.

The September 15 meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn with a workshop planned by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce executives.

Sixth director of BHS bands was Edward J. Downing Continuing our historical coverage of the Belleville High School Band, which is nearing the end of its golden anniversary year, we feature this week the sixth band director for the high school — Edward J. Downing.

He held the post for seven years from 1961 to 1968 taking over the baton from Donald Mattran. During his directorship, the band received outstanding ratings at the District and State Band Festival and Contests.

Downing, a native of Wyandotte, Mich., graduated from Theodore Roosevelt High School there in 1953 as class valedictorian. He later attended the University of Michigan, receiving his bachelor's degree in music in 1957 and a master's degree in 1966.

Prior to coming to Belleville he taught in the Wyandotte and Flint Beecher Schools. Upon leaving BHS, he became band director at the newly-built Huron High School in Ann Arbor and served from 1968 to 1975.

Exchanging his teaching career for banking, Downing now lives with his wife, Joyce, and three children, Karen, Jamie and David at 1801

Billoway Drive in Midland, Mich. (Editor's note: information courtesy Richard Coffelt.)

Parker-Freysinger plan 1978 wedding

MISSPARKER

Terry Lee Parker of Clawson and Robert James Freysinger of Belleville are engaged and making plans for a July 15, 1978 wedding at the Clawson United Methodist Church.

The young couple's betrothal is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Parker of 444 Park Dr., Clawson.

A 1976 graduate of Clawson High School, Miss Parker is employed as a legal secretary at Goldsmith, Yaker and Goldsmith.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Freysinger of 45275 Sunrise Lane, Belleville, graduated from Lahser High School in 1976 and is currently attending Michigan State University.

Anniversary forms available

For those marking wedding anniversaries with celebrations and parties, we have special anniversary forms to fill out. The questionnaires include all the pertinent information needed for putting a story together.

If you are planning to celebrate an anniversary and would like your friends to read about it in The Belleville Enterprise of The Romulus Roman, simply stop by our office at 116 Fourth St., Belleville, or telephone The Suburban Living Editor, Lee Smith, at 697-9191 to have a form mailed out.

We will be happy to accept photographs if they meet with our specifications. Please include one if it's available.

There is no charge for this service.

Oakwood Women set family picnic

An old-fashioned family picnic is being planned for the afternoon of Aug. 20 by the Oakbrook Women's Club of Romulus. The 12 noon to 6 p.m. activities, which will be held at the Oakbrook Clubhouse on Elm Lane in Romulus, are open to the public.

There is no admission charge but tickets will be sold for various foods and games.

A raffle being held in conjunction with the picnic will feature a black and white TV set as first prize; a vacuum cleaner as second and a wine rack and wine for third. Tickets at five for $1 are available from any club member or at the clubhouse office.

Music, food and games are being planned to make the day interesting and exciting and to give residents a chance to get to know each other.

In the event of rain, the festivities will be held one week later, on Aug. 27.

Kay Parker hostess to nine OES chapters

Kay Parker, Conductress of Belleville Chapter No. 73, Order Eastern Star, (OES), entertained conductresses from Wayne County chapters on July 30 at a picnic dinner at her home on East Huron River Drive, Belleville.

Guests from High Gate, Lake Shore, Wyandotte, West Gate, Tyrian, Dearborn, Lincoln Park, Victoria and Jefferson chapters were among those attending. Special guests were the Grand Conductress Janet Cheney and her husband, Bill, and children, Brent and Beth, from Hickory Corners; also Grand Sentinel Ronald Robinson and his wife, Phyllis, from Caro.

Still others present were the hostess' son, John, and her daughter, Donna Skeans. Husband, Joe Parker, had to miss the party because of work.

We're Glad You Asked!

with Harold Rediske UHT Memorial Funeral Home

Harold Rediske

"Why am I afraid to talk about death?"

You should know first that your fears are common ones which have been fostered for many centuries. Till recent years the subject has been taboo and "swept under the rug" till it affects us personally. Only recently has there been substantial scientific research on the subject.

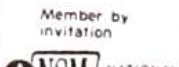

We don't talk about death because we fear it and we know so little about it. In the interest of mental health such feelings need to be changed. Public education, based on our new psychological and medical data, offer us our greatest help.

These educational helps are becoming more and more available to us. The librarian (and we) can recommend some very fine books written about death and dying; thanatology courses are offered in many schools; many churches now offer classes and discussion groups on the subject.

Here at UHT Memorial Funeral Home, we can arrange a tour of our funeral home and an explanation of our services for you and your friends. We can also be your personal consultants to answer some of your concerns about death.

Eating FUN! 'Bridge' set for Hilberry

Arthur Miller's "A View from the Bridge" will replace "Look Homeward, Angel" in the Hilberry Theatre's 1977-78 repertory.

This will be the fifth Miller presentation at the Hilberry, following successful productions of "After the Fall", his adaptation of Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People", "The Crucible" and "Death of a Salesman."

"A View from the Bridge" is Miller's revision of an earlier 1-act play written in classic form. The new version was a great success in London in 1956 and has been widely performed in this country. Like "Death of a Salesman", it is a modern tragedy of self-delusion.

It will be presented at the Hilberry with Miller's short mood piece, "A Memory of Two Mondays", first produced with the original version of "A View from the Bridge". Miller describes "A Memory of Two Mondays" as a "pathetic comedy", a play "of rent and hunger and the need for a little poetry in life".

Starting Dec. 9, this double bill will be performed on the same dates originally scheduled for "Look Homeward, Angel", which has been withdrawn by the publishers.

The 1977-78 repertory also includes Shaw's "You Never Can Tell", held over from last season, and new productions of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream", Moliere's "The School for Wives", Robert Bolt's "Vivat! Vivat Regina!"

Brochures with further details about the plays, performance schedule, and tickets will be available later in the summer and may be requested by calling 577-3010, or, after Sept. 5, 577-2972.

Book features 50 mini-trips

A new book of mini-trip travel features — the first such book designed for Michigan — is headed for the state's newsstands and bookstores following its recent publication.

Entitled "50 Great Mini-Trips for Michigan," it's the third statewide mini-trip book authored by Jack Osler, travel editor of The Dayton (Ohio) Daily News, who has visited hundreds of tourist attractions and historic sites as a travel writer and editor.

"Mini-trips" features practical information about places to go on weekend family outings, short-distance vacation trips and automobile tours — many of them based on Osler's personal visits.

Osler was assisted in the preparation of the book by Detroit-based travel writers Sandra Bunnell and Joseph E. Wolfe.

Most of the 50 mini-trip locations in the new book are located in Michigan and include such attractions as the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, the Irish Hills, Houghton Lake, Kensington Metropark, Frankenmuth, Cranbrook, the Detroit Zoo, and several places in the Upper Peninsula. Priced to retail for $2.50 — a nickel per mini-trip — the book also will be available through the mail. Mail copies may be obtained by sending $3 including postage, handling and sales tax payable to Media Ventures Inc. — to "50 MINI-TRIPS," 6081 Kinyon, Brighton, Mich. 48116.

For and about seniors

It's a really love story

By MAUREEN BEATTY

As "all the world loves a lover", so does the whole world love a love story. Book shelves are stocked with romantic boy-girl novels, all with happy endings. Movies and television, regardless of theme, build their plots around man-woman relationships. Newspapers have special sections to show pictures of young, radiant brides, smiling brilliantly on their wedding day. And everyone reading, or seeing, these things knows a moment of joy, for the whole world loves a love story.

Now and then, a real life love story becomes unique because of its contrast to the conventional. Our love story is different because of the ages of the participants. Teens and young adults fall in love every day, but when senior citizens fall in love, romance becomes a very special thing.

J Building has seen it's first, full blown romance. Noreen Aldis, 60, and Lewis Meckler, 69, will soon be saying their "I do's". Although both from Dearborn, Noreen and Louie met for the first time last April 1, when Noreen joined the CETA staff at J Building, where Louie already was employed.

Louie is retired from the Sheriff's Office, where he worked in communications for 15 years, and also from the race track, where he worked as a cashier and seller in the mutual department, for 20 years. One day while talking to Louie at work, Noreen mentioned that she liked horses, and Louie asked her to dinner and a night at the track. Their courtship progressed quickly after that. Louie proposed on July 10, and presented Noreen with an emerald cut diamond on July 26.

Noreen, a widow, was married to her first husband for 34 years. She has four children — Walter Charles Aldis of Detroit, Doreen Beverly of Dearborn, Thomas Milton Aldis of Taylor and Joyce Lotarski of Dearborn. She has 16 grandchildren, and 2 great-grandchildren.

Louie has three children from a previous marriage: Robert Meckler of Ohio, Barbara Diltz of Nevada and Carol Wilson of Washington. He has eight grandchildren.

Noreen claims she made up her mind about Louie the day they met. Louie is not sure yet how it all happened, but he's glad it did.

Noreen's family is delighted about the engagement. Although wedding plans are incomplete as of this writing, it already is understood that Noreen's son, Chuck, will give her away, and that the whole family will attend. They also are planning a shower for the future bride. Noreen is blissful. She plans to continue working after the wedding and is looking forward to cooking for her new husband, although Louie also likes to cook.

If the wedding takes place before the winter closing of Mackinac Island, they hope to honeymoon there, in the hotel Noreen's father once painted. Noreen feels: "more people should experience such happiness. I've got it all. Kids, grandkids, work, and now Louie."

All the world loves a love story, and the people at J Building are no exception. We sincerely wish Noreen and Louie a very happy life.

Blow-up: Pavement says 'It's too hot'

A hot summer afternoon and you're driving a smooth concrete highway—maybe even a little over the 55-mile-per-hour limit, without warning, there's a broken pavement joint ahead. Chunks of ragged concrete are spread along the pavement.

You panic; hit the brakes!

The pavement break is a phenomenon known to highway engineers as a "blow-up". It usually occurs on hot summer afternoons.

Tom Wiseman, chief maintenance engineer for the Department of State Highways and Transportation, said 391 blow-ups occurred on state highways and freeways last year. They cost more than $400,000 in repairs and caused a lot of anxious moments for motorists.

Concrete expands in summer and contracts in winter so engineers design expansion joints in highways to relieve pressure. Blow-ups rarely occur on new highways, but joints on older pavements sometimes deteriorate and become plugged with dirt and debris, preventing normal joint action. Under extreme pressure brought on by high temperatures, cracks appear and the joint "blows".

Usually, the action is gradual, but it can occur in minutes. Maintenance crews make repairs as soon as possible, but when traffic is heavy, many vehicles may hit the joint before it is reported.

Blown joints are patched with hot concrete that dries in five to six hours and sometimes, where traffic is heavy, with pre-cast sections of roadway that can be fitted into the pavement in less than two hours. Occasionally, a temporary patch of asphalt is used.

"We have potholes in spring, bridge ice in fall, snow and ice in winter and blow-ups in summer," Wiseman said. "With no permanent solution to any of these problems, motorists just have to drive carefully in all four seasons."

Merit Challenges Entire Low Tar Field To Match Taste.

'Enriched Flavor'™ tobacco makes MERIT unique among low tar cigarettes.

For years, smokers have been promised good taste at low tar.

Yet despite the promises, the products just didn't measure up. Regardless of special filters and baffles, low tar cigarettes just couldn't deliver.

Until MERIT. Until work began on the tobacco end of smoking.

By cracking cigarette smoke down into separate elements, researchers were able to isolate certain flavor-rich ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco that delivers the kind of taste smokers can switch to. And stick with.

Kings: 8 mg. "tar," 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '76 100's: 12 mg. "tar," 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Prove Taste

MERIT and MERIT 100's were both tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes. The results proved conclusively that 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco does boost taste without the usual increase in tar.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

And you can taste it.

Playoff fever takes sports world

Post-season madness in full swing

Wayne Public Library
1121 Wayne Road
Wayne, Mich. 48174
By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
Special Correspondent

Playoff fever is a malady not to be found in any existing medical journal, but can be as devastating to individuals, homes and communities as the most infectious kind of disorder known to man.

It turns middle-aged men into youthful dymanos, former prep athletes into "super jocks," dainty schoolgirls into sandlot guerrillas, matronly housewives into ferocious gladiators, and the mildest mannered of spectator into a frenzied "foghorn."

Its beginning is the final days of regularly scheduled games, with an incubation period of several more days, culminating with the start of playoff action—usually indicated by a surge in the sale of aspirin products and throat medication products, at neighborhood pharmacies.

The area blanketed by the sports department of The Associated Newspapers is "smack dab in the middle" of such an epidemic as every division of every league in every community is either in the midst of or about to start in its post-season madness.

After weeks of practice and months of regular-season play, teams finishing in the upper portion of each league standing joins in this late-summer ritual which affords not only the season champion, but those who came up just a bit short in the regular campaign, one more chance to "grab the brass ring" before fall and football take over the hearts and minds of sports fans.

Assuming one should drop by the local softball or baseball diamond, it is highly likely that it will have the appearance of the beginning of the season—for that's exactly what the playoffs are, a second-season, condensed into a few games.

Scattered throughout the pages of today's sports section are stories of these playoffs in hopes that every community is covered to the fullest.

Fortunately for all, the remedy for playoff fever is more participation and greater involvement by hundreds of sandlot performers and fans, and the cure is really a matter of awaiting the final outcome, and the recovery—sweet for some, sour for others—is another championship.

To those playoff champions, the sports staff offers its congratulations. To the losers go condolences and to recreation directors and league directors only words of advice:

Take two aspirins and call us next spring.

Tom Mooradian, Sports Editor

The Sports Meridian

Special friend moves on

While Sports Editor Tom Mooradian takes a well-deserved vacation, George Whitehead is guest columnist for The Sports Meridian.

If this column seems to border on an eulogy, please accept the fact that is was not meant to be; if it becomes too much like a friendly pat on the back, please indulge me; and, finally, if this writer abandons his formal journalistic training to espouse a personal attitude, please forgive me. But this chronicle is much too close to home.

The appointment of Jim McPartlin as assistant principal at Wayne Memorial High School is the catalyst for this column, for McPartlin is a close and good friend, as well as a fine human being. Undoubtedly he is more than well-qualified for the new position and unquestionably will do a good job. But Wayne High's gain is the sports world's loss.

For six years McPartlin has been head swimming coach at Wayne Memorial. During his tenure, he established a program which culminated two years ago with the first championship in the history of women's swimming at Wayne, and that feat was repeated by the women and duplicated by the men this past school season.

JIM MCPARTLIN

So much for his coaching ability, for there have been many before, and probably many more to follow, who have achieved greatness as a mentor only to move up the ladder to a higher plane in the field of his or her chosen vocation.

This column is not primarily about McPartlin's coaching ability, but more about the man.

I first became closely acquainted with McPartlin in 1972 when my children began swimming with the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club, an integral part of that program instituted by McPartlin and other Wayne High swim boosters. It initially was established as only a "feeder" system for future Zebra swimmers and was exclusive in nature at the outset.

The program, as witnessed by the recent Wayne success, worked. However, in the process, something else happened to those kids from Wayne and Westland — they became exposed and affected personally by Jim McPartlin.

I have described Jim McPartlin to scores of parents over the past years as being "26 years old going on 48." It is true — he has the enthusiasm of a youngster, the poise of a veteran, the wisdom of an "old-timer," and the patience of a grandfather.

Many times I have witnessed him starting at one end of the mammoth Attwood Pool by "chewing-out" an experienced high school swimmer who decided to skimp on his practice drills. As he moved on, McPartlin encouraged another experienced prep swimmer, with praise for an effort; advised a more proficient 13 or 14 year older as to more efficient techniques; gave even more detailed instruction to one of the relative newcomers, and ended his stroll by playfully tossing one of the many very young boys or girls into the water.

In that relatively short span of 50 yards, this man displayed all facets of emotion, a rare disposition indeed, for one of his tender years, for McPartlin is 28 summers old.

In the process of building his "feeder" system, McPartlin never seemed to lose sight of the fact that those boys and girls were not just bodies, names and faces — the best to be plucked away from the pack and others left to fend for themselves. He always had time to talk over a problem, whether swimming, personal or whimsical.

His relationship with adults bordered on the same. He is all business when the moment dictates, a fun-seeking leprechaun who can drop his favorite subject (swimming) to join in any festivity on the docket, and a true leader under any of these circumstances.

But kids, those are Jim McPartlin's people. Parents are just the vehicle which brought the kids to him. And that feeling is noticeably reciprocal by the boys and girls with whom he comes into contact.

The emotion is one of genuine love and affection. Yes, in this cold and callous world of win-at-all-cost sports, Jim McPartlin's charges have gone almost to the end of their personal endurance, not only for him, but primarily BECAUSE of him.

You can flower the reasons with words like pride, devotion, loyalty or desire — but in the end result it is quite simply and plainly "love."

It's with this feeling that Jim McPartlin, swim coach, becomes James J. McPartlin, assistant principal, and there is little doubt among close friends that he will do more counseling than administrating — for that is Jim McPartlin, the man.

In my final analysis, how the job is accomplished will be the measure of his success, and McPartlin's past record shows him a winner, both in athletic endeavors and in life.

Announce Canton All-Stars

An all-star team representing the Canton Township Women's Softball League was announced this week.

Diane Merritt, of Little Caesar, was named manager, while her coaches are Debbie Schmidt, of Cervi Home Builders, and Betty Bird, of Meijer Thrifty Acres.

Members of the team are Carole Smith, Rita Spaulding and Becky Deneweth, of Little Caesar; Betty Bird, Pat Cimino and Trudy Watkins, of Meijer; Debbie Schmidt, Ruth Dennett and Cinda Schwarzenberger, Cervi; Debbie Cushman, Pat Martinez and Cheryl Jahoda, Palace Fine Food; Judy Ibbetson and Gwen Neal, Maria's Bakery, and Paula Stradner, Diane Hulswitt and Judy Fisher, of Egg Castle.

Grid physicals

Marshall Junior High School will hold physical examinations for prospective football players at 3 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the Marshall gymnasium. Coach Ernie Righetti said the squad will begin practice on Monday.

Initial victor is J&D

Denied of the regular-season championship in the Wayne Women's Slow Pitch Softball League after a "tooth-and-nail" battle had to be settled by a tie-breaking playoff game which it lost, J & D Auto Parts recaptured its lost glory by winning the post-season playoff.

J & D drew first blood in the playoff-frenzied world of post-season play by edging regular-season champions Extra Point, 9-7. It was the second triumph for J & D over its 1977 rival in the double-elimination playoffs.

Gay Diehl ripped a two-run homer in the fourth inning last Thursday to provide J & D with an 8-7 lead and its eventual winning runs. The regular-season runnerups added an insurance run in the fifth.

Sherle Soltis and Marg Porter each had two hits to aid a well-balanced J & D attack as Sarah Kahalen gained the pitching victory. Vickie Pier had three hits, Debbie Reid and Sue Richardson added two, and Barb Hull belted a home run for the never-say-die Extra Point club.

Both teams started the playoffs with easy victories as J & D downed Jake's Lounge, 9-1, behind Sarah Kahalen's three-hit pitching and a lusty hitting attack sparked by Gay Diehl's three singles and two hits each by Sue Johnson, Beth Johnson and Lou Hoelt. Diane Williams was the only Jake's batter to really touch Kahalen when she unloaded a home run.

Extra Point's first three batters did the lion's share of the damage in its first triumph, a 12-3 rout of Mac Tools, as Debbie Reid, Kathy Podgorny and Becky Brown scored eight runs between them.

Babe Ruth champs

Holding trophies and giving the usual "We're Number One" signal are members of the Westland Babe Ruth All-Star team, a squad of 13-year-old players who capture the state's championship. With the stunning victory neatly assured, the Westland youngsters are heading for Huntington, West Virginia, and the Ohio Valley Regional tournament this week end.

Goes to West Virginia

Second Westland Babe Ruth team wins state tournament

By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
Special Correspondent

A state tournament near-miss one week and a state champion the next certainly must be causing national concern in the direction of Westland teams on the part of others in the post-season Babe Ruth baseball tournament world.

On the heels of Westland Triple-A Babe Ruth's second place to regional champion West Seven two weeks ago, the city's entry of 13-year-old all-stars captured the Michigan championship in Alpena last week end and began packing its collective bag for the trip to Huntington, West Virginia, and the Ohio Valley Regionals.

Westland is scheduled to meet one of the two host West Virginia teams at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the first game of a regional which brings together teams from Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Illinois, West Virginia and, of course, Michigan.

Westland gained the state title with doubleheader victory over Alpena National in a double-loss-elimination tournament hosted by the northern Michigan city. It was particularly sweet for Manager Ken Shoner's team to beat Alpena National since the Westland team's only loss was on opening day, 4-2, in eight innings on a disputed call and two wild pitches.

The team, composed of 13-year-old players from Westland's Triple-A (highest) Babe Ruth League, left little doubt in the tournament finale as it pounded 12 hits for a resounding 13-5 triumph.

Westland combined five hits and several walks to score seven times in the first inning and then coasted home as Ken Schultz and Gene (Herk) Piscopink scattered 11 hits and kept Alpena National at bay.

'Windmill' pitching ends Belleville gals' softball surge

Savoring its Sectional Tournament championship and content in the fact that the team which eliminated it from state contention is competing in the Mid-West Regionals, the Belleville-Van Buren Senior Girls' Softball All-Star team is back home for a well-deserved rest.

The Belleville squad, managed by Sue Mlsna and coached by Dick Nota, ended its 1977 season by losing to Cheyebogan, 12-5, the eventual Michigan champions. Cheyebogan, with what Nota called a host of superb "windmill-delivery" pitchers, moved on to represent Michigan in the Midwest Regional tournament.

Belleville gained its first plateau in the tournament ladder with a pair of wins over Lincoln Park North, 5-4, behind the pitching of Betsy Nova, and 14-7, as Judy Brown handcuffed the Park team. Those wins gave Belleville a district title and sent the All-Stars to St. Clair for the Sectional Tournament.

Betsy Nota stymied Richmond on the mound and she and teammates

Yvette Templeman, Debbie Kottke, Vickie Forest and Linda Spino battered the Richmond pitching staff for four runs in the first inning and an easy 9-2 win.

Judy Brown turned in a two-hit pitching gem, while Linda Spino, Betsy Nota and Nancy Wisniewski each collected two hits to lead a balanced Belleville attack in a 12-2 verdict over Richmond to gain the sectional title and a trip to the state finals in Kalamazoo.

Pitching in the state tournament was just too much for the Belleville girls, aged 13 to 15 years, as Clintondale handled the local stars a 3-1 loss in the opening round and Cheyebogan eliminated them in the finals, 12-5.

"Most of the pitchers in our league and surrounding communities use the 'sling-shot' method," Nota pointed out. "The windmill (which is a complete circle motion) had our girls baffled, but they never gave up."

Betsy Nota hurled a five-hitter against Clintondale, but Yvette Templeman was the only Belleville batter to get a safety off the winner's Jane Mikela.

Yvette Templeman had two hits and Linda Spino and Nancy Wisniewski each added singles in the Cheyebogan game.

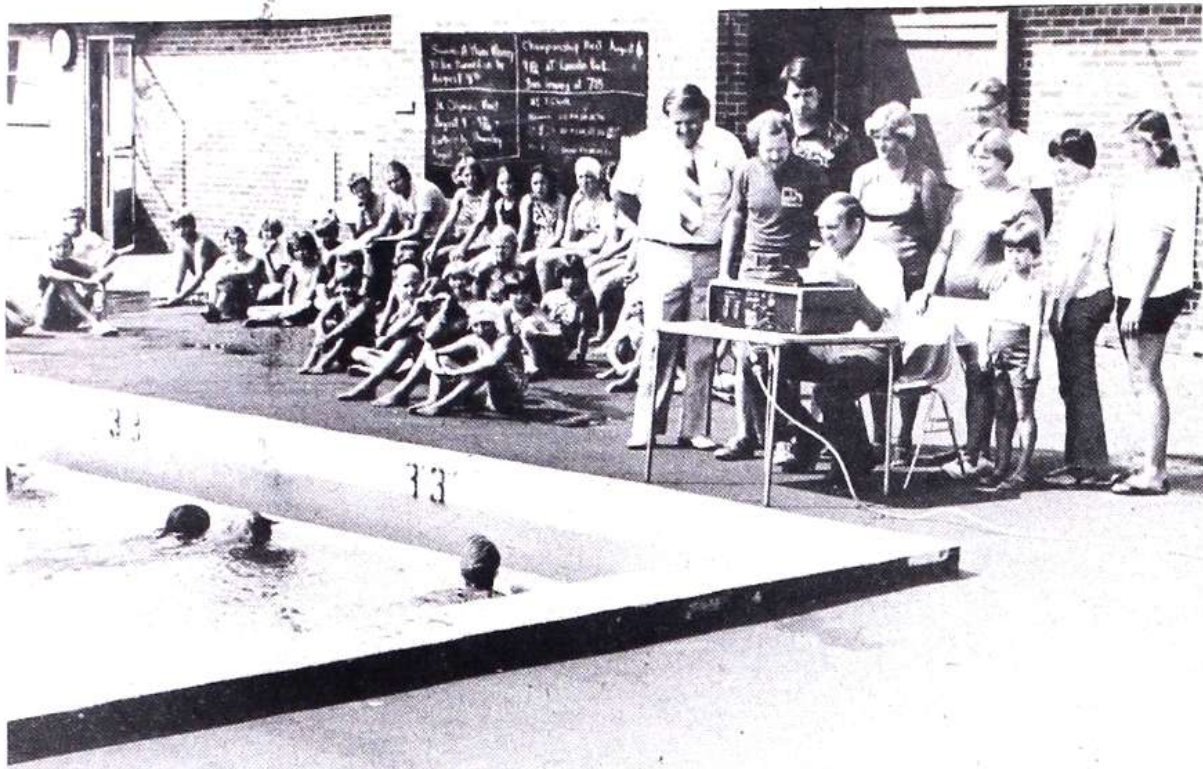

"With this experience I feel our girls will be able to go even further in tournament play next year," Nota added. "Sue Mlsna did a great job and the girls were marvelous both on and off the field."

Gaining district and sectional tournament championships, the Belleville-Van Buren All-Star Senior Girls Softball team went to the state finals before being eliminated. Shown here ready for a well-deserved rest are team members Coach Dick Nota (top row left), Toni Grieve, Beth Brinkerhoff, Jill Mlsna, Debbie Kottke, Karen Day, Lisa

Electronic dream

A six-year dream came true this summer when the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club purchased an electronic timing unit. With the tremendous growth of the popular swimming club—which is sponsored by the Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation in conjunction with the Wayne-Westland Board of Education, it became difficult to manually time races. In one of his last official acts as head coach of the Dolphin team before resigning to become assistant principal at Wayne High, Jim McPartlin demonstrates the unit, which automatically records the winning lane and times of each swimmer in proper sequence. As swimmers look on in the background, McPartlin operates the unit's dials under the careful scrutiny of Theodore D'Pulos, director of the parks and recreation (left); Coach Jim Lawrence; Mike Gouin, co-ordinator of the pool facilities for the parks and recreation, and parents of swimmers.

Only Jac's stumbles

League champs fare well in Wayne start

Jac's Lounge was the only regular-season champion in three Wayne softball divisions to fall by the wayside in opening rounds of the two-loss-elimination Wayne Softball League playoffs which began last Wednesday and run through the end of this week.

Class C champion Jac's, a 16-2 performer over the regular campaign, were surprised by Woolf Aircraft, 6-5, in a thriller.

Burghuff Bar, Class B Division I victors, toppled Garden City Sporting Goods, 11-7, while Class B Division II champs Drake's Lounge staved off a late rally to edge Four Seasons, 10-9.

A sacrifice fly off the bat of pitcher Terry (Grizzley) Daughtry proved to be the winning margin for Woolf as a Jac's rally in the bottom of the last inning fell short. Marvin Steiner had three hits for Woolf and was helped at the plate by Ernie Yankaski and Randy Dewolf, who chipped in two each.

Gary Niemczak and Bill Coleman, the losing pitcher, each touched Doughty for triples, while Ken Sheldon banged four hits in a losing cause.

In the other Class C opener, Cobb's Pharmacy pulled a mild upset with a 6-2 verdict over Jack Demmer. Demmer finished the regular season in second place, while Cobb's just secured the final playoff spot.

Roger Drake blasted a three-run homer in the first inning only to have Four Seasons rally for six runs in the top of the second. From that point Jim Vergona kept the challengers at bay as Drake's pulled to a 10-6 lead.

Call meeting

The Vince Lombardi Junior Football Association has called a parents' meeting for 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday, Aug. 11) in the cafeteria at Plymouth Canton High School. The association sponsors the Steelers and Lions junior football teams, for boys 9 to 12 years old.

A three-run rally was nipped to give Drake's the win.

Roger Drake had three hits and Greg Reid and Vergona each had two for the winners, while John Perras collected four, including a four-bagger, in Four Seasons' losing effort.

In the other Division II game, Unistrut banged 13 hits and Bruce McClure scattered 11 by Knights of Columbus in a 9-4 Unistrut win. Jeff Hogan included a home run in his three hits, while Del Hicks also slammed three singles to lead the Unistrut attack. Norm Swope, Brendon Heany and Frank Powers each tripled on behalf of Knights.

Burghuff's victory was spiced by a lousy 18-hit attack including a homer, triple and single by Norm Beasley, two triples and a single off the bat of Dean Mintor, two doubles by Dave Conlin and three singles by Bob Joskewski.

Elmer Daniels and Bob Hobbs each had three hits for Garden City, while Bill Jones and Bob Augustine each collected two.

Fiddle Bar moved into the winners' bracket with a 14-6 pasting of Club Canton behind three hits each off the bats of Gary Truskowski, Jerry Holbrook, Gary Dargo and Dennis Cowell. Del St. Antoine and Dan Sowa each had two hits for Club Canton.

In the only other Division II game, Club Canton eliminated Garden City, 11-8, behind a 16-hit barrage. Terry Magnuson had four for the winners and Gil Cox added three.

Bizarre race results mean win for Belleville owner

Horseplayers are notorious for wild tales of "what might have happened" or "could have been," but it will be quite a while before the bizarre, tragic events of last week's running at Detroit Race Course will be forgotten.

Notes and Chords, a three-year-old gelding owned by William Burnett, of Belleville, went off at 118-to-1; finished the race in third spot, and ended up in the winner's circle. Notes and Chords paid $239.80 to win.

In what has to be the most startling race of the current outing, two horses were disqualified, one lay dead, and two jockeys were briefly hospitalized.

Only Washington, one of the favorites, was disqualified after finishing the race first M for clipping Mr. Gyro as the horses left the starting gate. Classic Bernie was disqualified and placed eighth (even though it was second across the finish line) in a tragic scrape with Coco Tower, which died instantly after hitting the rail.

Following a five-minute judges' review, Notes and Chords was declared the winner.

Dolphins' summer is record 'perfect'

By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
Special Correspondent

Placing the maximum two swimmers in almost every event in addition to chalking up 12 individual first places and three of four victories in relays, the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club captured the Summer-Winter Swim Conference league meet Saturday to gain the 1977 summer conference championship.

The Dolphins, who also won the winter version of the five-club league, amassed 297 points and were really only challenged by host Lincoln Park, with 222½. Crestwood ended with 139½, while Cherry Hill and Allen Park had 86 and 57, respectively.

Using the league's formula of six points for each relay meet and six for the individual championship, Wayne had a perfect 30 points for the summer competition. Lincoln Park nosed out Crestwood for second, 16½-16, while Cherry Hill finished with 9½ and Allen Park, 5.

Kris Balwinski, a petite blond fifth-grader from Elliott School, and Eric Head, a muscular 12-year-old sixth-grader—also from Elliott, each scored two victories in leading the Dolphins to its league championship.

Miss Balwinski scored individual firsts in the 25-meter butterfly and the 25-meter breaststroke, while Head scored his victories in the same events, only over 50-meters. Both swam on their respective medley relay teams, which also won.

Todd Melanshek—who teamed with Head, Mary Batterson and Diane Brown in the 11-12-year-old medley relay team—and Doug White had themselves quite an individual tussel with both taking a first.

Melanshek touched out White in the 50-meter backstroke, but White came back to outstretch Melanshek in the 50-meter freestyle.

Wayne also finished one-two in four other events. Mary Beth Henson was second in the 25-meter butterfly behind Miss Balwinski, while Mike Egan was second to Head in the breaststroke.

Dan Butler got to the wall ahead of teammate Harold Schleicher in the boys' open 50-meter backstroke, while Brad Rockman and Jim Watts went one-two in the boys' open 50-meter breaststroke. Mary Batterson touched out Sandy Burns in the 50-meter freestyle for girls 11 and 12 years old.

Rene Whitson, in the 50-meter open girls breaststroke, and Kelly Batterson, in the girls open 100-meter freestyle, were the Dolphins' other individual winners.

Rick Kogelschatz, Cherry Hill's Class B state butterfly champion, had quite a day for himself with a first in the open butterfly, open individual medley and a spot on Cherry Hill's 15-18 200-meter medley relay team.

Teri Discher and Mike Greuber each brought home second-place ribbons for Wayne. Other second places went to Tom Brown, Mary Batterson, Gretchen Batterson, Mike Balwinski, Sarah O'Kray, Keith Head, Cathy Batterson, Jeff Albert, Debbie Cockran, Joe Miles, Randy Ferguson, Kelly Batterson, Andy Balwinski and Tim White.

Marlene Kowalski led the Dolphins in third places with two, while other third-place ribbons went to George Hills, Lisa Mondock, Don Mastro, Keith Head, Diane Brown, Jamie Thompson, Mark Newman and Julie Maher.

Rams need 11 innings for 6-4 win

Robert Nutt slashed a double to chase home two runners in the eleventh inning of a special playoff game as the Rams edged the Wolverines, 6-4, to capture the Wayne Class E Baseball League championship.

The victory ended a season-long uphill struggle for the Rams and gave the victors the right to represent Wayne in the Class E.M.R.P.A. state tournament, which begins Monday. The Wolverines will be the city's entry in the inter-city tournament beginning August 18.

It was a nip-and-tuck contest, as has been the season pennant race between these two teams, with first the Wolverines scoring; the Rams taking a lead, and the Wolverines pushing across the tying run with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning to send the contest into extra innings.

With one out in the eleventh, Danny Perusse was safe on an error, Bob Kort singled and Rich Peters was safe on a fielder's choice to set the stage for Nutt's game-deciding blow.

Perusse, who relieved starter Chuck Erickson in the fourth inning with the Wolverines holding a 3-1 lead and runners waiting on second and third, hurled eight superb innings of hitless ball to register the victory.

Perusse struck out 13 batters and had two hits, as did Kort, Nutt and Brian Kaminski, to spark the championship drive. Perusse and Erickson allowed only six hits between them, but had some control trouble with seven walks, which enabled the Wolverines to stay close.

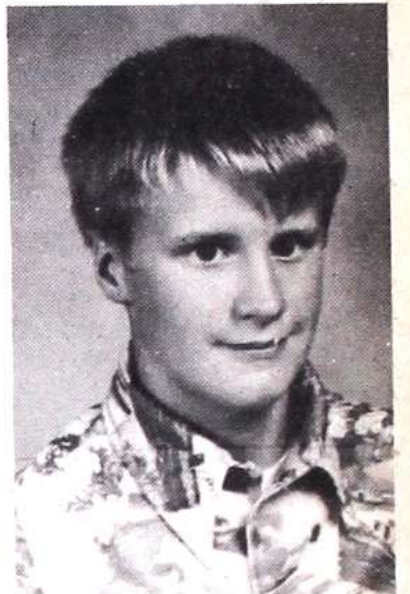

In a heartbreaking loss, Jeff Lambert went the full 11 innings and struck out 19 batters. He also had a home run and a single in a fruitless effort.

The two teams ended the regular season with identical 10-5 records, necessitating the playoff.

Cherishing their fourth-place ribbons were Jamie Thompson, Jeff Albert, Tim White, Lori Miles, Newman, Tracey Batterson, Alan White, Julie Lutz, Jack Underwood, Kate Greuber, Sandy Burns, Cathy White, Andy Balwinski, Kurt (Korky) Whitehead, and David Reynolds, who had two for the day.

Fourth places were scored by Debbie Cochran, Jeff Thompson, Diane Brown, Lori Miles, Lisa Mondock, Brian Hewett and Kurt Whitehead.

Ribbons for sixth place went to Kris Whitehead, Tom Brown, Rebecca O'Kray, Tim Tilley, Kate Greuber and Alan White.

Johnny's ends doubt in Westland streak

For one fleeting moment the outcome of the Westland Women's Slow Pitch Softball League seemed to be in doubt — but with a flash of its mighty bats, Johnny's Shell slammed home a six-run inning to beat Power Packs, 10-6, in the final regularly scheduled game of the season.

Then, as if to put the entire world on notice, Johnny's unleashed a savage 42-hit bombardment for a 33-5 massacre of Heads Together in the make-up of a previous rain-out to end its season with a perfect 14-0 mark and gain its championship.

Meanwhile, Studio Lounge blasted Crestwood Dodge, 26-4, on 31 hits to settle for a second-place finish with a 13-1 over-all record.

Playoffs were to begin last Tuesday and there is little doubt that Johnny's and Studio will be right in the thick of things.

Dispelling any anxious moments by its fans, Johnny's tallied six times in the fourth inning to overcome a 4-2 Power Pack lead as Gloria Gianette belted two homers and a triple, while Joy Knapp and Marie Fletcher each added three singles.

Nancy Anderson and Lenore Dreufus each had homered to give Power Packs the early lead. Marie Fletcher was the winning pitcher, while Lenore Dreufus took the loss.

In the make-up game, Lix Occzarick slammed three home runs, a triple, a double and a single to drive in eight runs for Johnny's. Joy Knapp added five singles, while Karen Austin had four hits, including a home run.

Denise Balient was the only Heads Together batter able to really touch winning pitcher Janine Crosky as she drilled a home run. Denise Balient was also the losing pitcher.

Karen McElyea laced five hits, including a triple, and Nancy Bauman and Sharon Winkler each had three as the trio drove in three runs apiece in Studio's 26-4 win over Crestwood. Edwina Stromoski, Donna Reed and Bev Liverance each collected three hits in a losing cause.

Lynn's Country Bar moved into a playoff berth with two relatively easy wins over Heads Together, 20-6, and 22-5, in a doubleheader make-up night. Lynn's put together a big inning in each contest to win going away.

In the opener, Judy Fidh slammed two homers and a pair of singles to drive in six runs and highlight a 15-run Lynn's outburst, while Tammy Manno hit roundtrippers for Heads Together. In the second contest, Dawn LaLonde reached the fence twice and added a triple and single as Lynn's tallied 13 times in the opening inning and never was headed. Becky Cole and Sue Chopp each had a triple and two singles for the winners.

Studio Lounge had stayed in contention earlier with a 16-1 win over Hudson's Westland, but the effort fell short as Johnny's refused to wilt.

Bova Post V.F.W. clinched third spot with a forfeit win over Hudson's and a rare one-hit shutout of Power Packs, 31-0. Sheryl Chomick allowed only a single to Val Huntley in this slow pitch phenomenon. Meanwhile Rhonda Dreher and Vicki Pier each crashed home runs and Gerriann Fullerton collected four hits to lead the Bova attack.

Romulus grid team holds car washes

The first of three fund-raising car wash projects is scheduled for Saturday as the Romulus Little League Football team prepares for the 1977 season. The first car wash will be at Romulus High School from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Shirley Harnyah, spokesman.

The Romulus team also will be accepting registrations Saturday at the Romulus Public Library, Wayne and Goddard. Boys between the ages of 9 and 13 are eligible.

Additional car washes are scheduled for August 20 and August 27.

Trolling — fishing for the lazy man?

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

I don't know how it got started for sure, but somewhere along the way trolling started being referred to as "a lazy man's" fishing technique. I think it might have been a plugcaster who had one small bass to show for six hours of fishing ... and had just watched a troller net his third nice pike.

To the casual observer it probably does look quite easy. Two fishermen sitting back in comfortable chairs, watching their lines, as they cruise by. But I've never found it quite that easy. Standing in a boat with four-to-six-foot waves pitching you all around is hard enough, but try running four downriggers, two outriggers, a flatline, and changing lures every thirty minutes. If you can stand there flatfooted and tell me that it is easy, my hat is off to you.

Trolling is probably one of the best methods to use when you are unfamiliar with a particular lake. You can cover a larger amount of water, fish more lines, and expose more lures to more fish than if you were plugcasting. Not that I have anything against plugcasting. Nothing quite equals the thrill of a bass hitting a jitterbug at dusk.

As a boy I used to go to North Lake with my dad and we'd roll in our 12-foot cartop. We didn't know much about technique, and our equipment was meager, but it seemed we always took some nice fish.

Basically there are two types of trolling that are used. Surface trolling and deep trolling. Most fishermen use a combination of the two until they locate the fish.

Surface trolling is used when you feel the fish are in the top ten feet of water. Your rods are placed in rod holders in such a way as to hold your lines as far apart as possible. Three lines are the maximum that can be fished without tangling unless you use outriggers or sideplaners.

Using outriggers you would set the lines on them the furthest distance back from the boat. The two lines on the gunwales would be next, and the center line would be the shortest distance back; this would enable you to turn slowly without tangling your lines.

When you pass over a school of fish they will spread out and regroup after you have passed. The key is to have your lines back from the boat at the point they regroup. This distance is different each time you fish. Once you pick up your first fish you set all your lines back at that distance.

The second type of trolling, deep trolling, is used extensively on the Great Lakes. Using self-diving lures can get you as deep as 30 feet, and self tripping planers to about 60. Using trolling sinkers can be effective, however, you have the added effort of "playing" lead when you retrieve your line.

Wire line trolling with single strand Model wire line is used quite often for lake trout with the line acting as a linear sinker. It normally averages out to about one foot of depth for each eight feet of line.

Probably nothing has done more to enhance deep trolling than a Michigan invention, the downrigger. Basically a reel to hold 200 feet of 140-lb. test wire line, a 7-10-lb. lead weight, and a quick release device, it has revolutionized fishing.

Your lure is let out from two to 75 feet behind the boat and the line clipped onto the quick release device. The weight is then lowered to the depth you want. When a fish hits the lure the line pulls from the release and you are free to play your fish without the encumbrance of heavy weight.

Raising and lowering downrigger weights is hard work. Stripping off line makes your arm hurt, and standing in a pitching boat next to impossible. But I guess that when you finally sit down to wait for a kickoff you are guilty of fishing "the lazy man's way."

Belleville wrestler second in AAU test

Carl Winekoff, 16-year-old Belleville wrestler, placed second in the Amateur Athletic Union Grand National Championships in Lincoln, Nebraska. He is currently in training with the United States Pan American team, which will travel to Mexico for the games.

While in training, the 138-pound grappler is also participating in the multi-sport AAU Junior Olympics, scheduled this week and on national television. Winekoff's only loss in the Grand National was to defending champion Tony Differ, of Pennsylvania.

In good company

Mike Gouin, former Wayne Memorial High and Eastern Michigan star, is in pretty good company in the Detroit Caesars professional softball team. Gouin is currently batting .571 with 25 home runs and 89 hits. Only Mike Nye, Ronnie Ford and Doug Gerdes have more hits. Below Gouin in the statistics are former Tigers Norm Cash and Jim Northrup, among others.

Umpire signals, team celebrates

Wayne-Ford wraps up Community Services Crown

Wayne-Ford Civic had its hitting tops on last week and ripped Chamber of Commerce, 19-5, to sew up the Westland Community Services Softball League championship. Wayne-Ford ended the season with a 12-1 record, outdistancing second-place Knights of Columbus by three games.

Four teams began playoffs this week, and unless someone can solve the Wayne-Ford mystic, the regular-season champs could have a double championship.

Joe Cooley banged out four hits, including a homer and two doubles to pace the Wayne-Ford attack, while Scott Brown had a double, triple and home run. Harry Smith chipped in two doubles and a triple. Cooley was the winning pitcher.

Gary Riley and Ron Ross each had three hits, including a home run each, to lead Chamber of Commerce.

Knights of Columbus, although bowing in the season finale, assured itself of second place and a playoff berth with a 24-1 rout of J.C. Dinky's. Chuck Abraham blasted five hits and John Heraghty and Jerry Abraham each added four in leading the Knights barrage.

J.C. got only four hits off John Marszalek, but one was a four-bag belt by Bruce Thompson, the losing pitcher.

In the real barn-burner of the week, J.C. Dinky's bested the Westland Hockey Association, 17-16, in a come-from-behind hang-on victory. Hockey Association scored six times in the sixth inning to take a 14-13 lead, only to have J.C. knot the game in the seventh, forcing an extra-inning test.

J.C. ended two scoreless frames with three runs in the 10th, but had to choke off a Hockey Association two-run rally in the bottom of the tenth to win.

Chuck Cooney had four hits and Larry Lebert and Al Archie each added three for J.C., while Les Wilson and George Blom each contributed four for the losers. Rick Zylka chipped in three singles for Hockey Association.

One-hitter spells Class D title, 3-2

Richie Porter fashioned and in-field single one-hitter and his Wayne I teammates made the most of five hits and some nifty base running to capture the Wayne Class D Baseball League championship with a 3-2 verdict over Wayne II.

The victory was the tenth in 12 starts for Wayne I and resulted in a one-game bulge over Wayne II as the curtain fell on the 1977 campaign.

Greg Stano worked losing pitcher Larry Vojkofsky for a base on balls, stole second and scampered home on a single by Greg Pitt for a tally in the fifth inning that proved to be Wayne I's margin of victory.

The winners scored twice in the fourth inning on Stano's double, Pitt's single and a blast off the bat of Tracy Conyer which chased home Pitt, who stole second.

Porter's performance was marred only by two wild pitches, each of which resulted in a run for Wayne II. Wes Scott spoiled his bid for a no-hitter with an infield bleeder in the second inning as Porter fanned 11 batters and walked two.

Orville Hartford and Porter combined pitching duties earlier in the week to hold Inkster Cathedral scoreless for six innings as Wayne I snared a 6-2 decision. Mike Luzaich paced the winners with two hits, while Robert Nutt drove in two runs.

Porter also put on quite a pitching display in this game. After Hartford had held Inkster Cathedral scoreless on one hit over the first three innings, Porter came in and struck out the first five batters he faced and eight of the first nine.

Scott singled, doubled and blasted a home run to spark Wayne II to an earlier win over Inkster Cathedral to necessitate its championship confrontation with Wayne I.

Larry Reid scattered seven Inkster Cathedral hits and fanned seven batters to record the pitching victory. Roger Burnie was the only Inkster batter able to touch Reid for two hits.

Central East stars champs

Westland's Central East Class A All-Stars are sporting trophies designating themselves champions of the post-season all-star classic.

Central East defeated Central West, 12-11, as Tom Robertson went the distance. Then in the city Class A all-star finals, Toberston hurled the final six innings as Central East beat North, 14-13.

Members of the team included Roger Hale and Mark Martin, of the league-champion Tigers; Mickey Smith and Tom Robertson, Astros; Jeff Stafford and Jim Kociela, Mets; Rick Gowan and Chuck Thornton, Braves; Richie Rogers and Toby Wright, Orioles; Ron Clooten and Todd Taylor, Pirates; Jeff Hanenberger and Kurt (Korky) Whitehead, Angels, and Alan Wagner and Todd Floch, of the Indians.

The squad was managed by Bill Jones and coached by Tom Oliverson.

Studio clears fence to lead Major chase

Studio Lounge mounted its own assault on the fence at Westland's Jaycee Park and got a helping hand from previous also-ran M&M Radio and TV to take over the lead in the Westland Men's Major Division Softball League.

Studio defeated Big Bill's Sports, 32-5, and downed Habs, 26-9, for a 2-1 season record. Meanwhile, M&M stunned once-beaten Westland Sports, 12-11, dropping the Westland team into a tie for second place.

Bud Daniels put on his own home run derby with three blasts that cleared the fence and Jim Kholman and Frank Burton also socked over-the-fence homers in leading Studio to its rout of Big Bill's. The new league leaders had their hitting clothes in good condition with three triples and the five homers included in a 35-hit attack.

Daniels had a total of seven runs-batted-in for the contest, while Kholman added three other hits and drove in six. Tom Davison, the winning pitcher, aided his own cause with four hits.

Dennis James had four hits, including one over the fence, and Ron Jones counted two homers among his six hits in leading the Studio drubbing of Habs. Mike Burton had three hits.

M&M, with only four previous wins, scored three times in the first inning, eight more in the fourth and tallied the winning run in the sixth in edging Westland Sports, 12-11. Craig Barczuk led the winners with four hits, while Jay Thompson had three. Chris Murphy smashed a pair over the fence, but couldn't save the Sports team.

Buzz Troop, another team which has been unable to keep its win record over the .500 mark, pushed Shoppe Around to eight innings and gave the contender a scare before Shoppe Around's A.J. Dorsey banged a game-winning homer in the bottom of the eighth for a 16-15 squeaker.

Buzz Troop had a 14-9 lead in the top of the seventh inning, but Shoppe Around rallied for five runs to send the game into extra innings. Again Buzz Troop took the lead with a single tally, only to have Dorsey's two-run blow end the threat.

Race to wire is on tap

It looks like the fight for supremacy in the Westland Softball League's Blue Division will go right to the wire as Fairlane and B-B's Mauladers are locked in a donnybrook of a deadlock.

Each club ended last week's play with identical 9-2 records and headed for a regular-season showdown.

Fairlane took over sole possession last Wednesday by gaining a forfeit over P & P Distributors. This win came on the heels of a 16-3 rout of Amantea on a brilliant five-hit pitching performance by Dave Ketchner. Paul Mirandi, Dale Evans and Dennis Fisher each had three hits to pace the Fairlane victory.

But then on Friday, B-B's tallied twice in each of the last three innings and halted a seventh-inning threat for an 8-7 win over Extra Point Bar and a tie for first place. John Hughes, Jim Jenson and Brian Parrish each had two hits for B-B's, while Dan Covert, John Martin and Jerry Campbell banged out two apiece for Extra Point.

Dennis Sipe, Ed Tolson and Rich Dittmar paced a balanced attack Friday as McCurdy kept its playoff hopes alive with a 16-4 rout over Berry's Home Appliance. Jerry Madden, Russ Nowaczek and Les Warden each had two safeties for Berry's.

Seven runs batted in by Ed Marshall, who collected a homer, a triple, two doubles and a single, kept Champion Screw Machine in the thick of the playoff race with a 27-17 win over Jake's Lounge. Dick Sever had a homer, triple and single for Jake's.

In a thriller that doesn't effect the league race or playoffs, Odyssey Lounge pushed across a run in the seventh inning to win a see-saw battle over Jamies, 12-11. Mike Schaffath hit two triples to pace the winners, while Steve Leshin homered for the losers.

Extra Point Bar downed Berry's, 9-5, and Jake's upended McCurdy Optical, 7-6, to further muddle the league standings and playoff chase.

Jake's Lounge, an also-ran for most of the year, tossed a monkey wrench into B-B's Mauladers' title drive with single runs in the fifth and sixth inning to erase a 3-3 deadlock and hand B-B's its second loss, 5-3.

Jerry Neher had a homer, a double and a single to spark Jake's fourth victory in 10 starts and a 1-1 record.

Dennis Reitz cleared the Jaycee Park fence twice and Bob Goodlow added another for Shoppe Around. Tom Piscopink also added three hits, as did Buzz Troop's Gary Lienstein.

Earlier last week, Westland mounted a 21-hit attack to hand Studio Lounge its first loss of the season, 17-5, and then rapped 29 safeties to rout Buzz Troop, 26-7, to take over the league lead.

Vern Westerlund, Perry Pappas and Bob Kellenbeck each drilled home runs to pace the Westland attack, while Tony Pilarski scattered 10 Studio hits and chipped in three himself. Dick Saylor and Don Chute each added three singles for the winners.

Ron Jones and Bud Daniels each blasted home runs for Studio, but the previously undefeated team couldn't mount a sustained drive against Pilarski and Westland.

Then, as though to show its intentions on holding first place, Westland ripped Buzz Troop with seven runs in the first inning on the way to its 26-7 win. Phil Raney and Tim Abramski each smashed balls over the fence and Chris Murphy delivered four hits to spark the onslaught. Pilarski was the winning pitcher, while Chuck Blackman was the victim of the front-runner's might.

Studio regained its composure and belted Bullets, 19-3, as Dick Reynolds, Tom Davidson and Greg Kuhn each collected three hits. Tom Davidson did a good job of spacing 14 Bullet hits to record the victory. Gary Murzin, Irv LaLonde and Ron Ceck each nipped Davidson for a pair of safeties.

Shoppe Around, meanwhile, moved into contention with three big wins. Bob Goodlow, Dennis Rietz and Guy Burke each cleared the fence twice in leading Shoppe Around to a 24-15 triumph over Big Bill's and then Goodlow and Rietz banged out three hits apiece to lead an 11-6 victory over Pete & Johnnie's.

Three hits each by Joe Walker, Berry Anderson and Tom Piscopink guided Shoppe Around to a 21-15 outslug of Century 21 as the winners moved to within striking distance of the league lead.

Bob Rayburn, Mark Koss and Denton Moyle each collected three hits for Century 21, but Shoppe Around tallied 16 times in the last three innings to pull the game out of reach.

Shaklee chalked up two wins to stay right in the thick of the title chase. A pair of hits by each Chris Drake, Jerry Mastally and Jim Gibson — paced by homers by Mastally and Drake — led Shaklee to a 24-6 win over Habs.

Still time to register for Wayne tennis play

Candidates for the city of Wayne Parks and Recreation Department 1977 tennis tournament still have time to get in under the entry-wire gun for both singles and doubles competition. The tournament will be staged at the Attwood courts, Howe and Ann Arbor, and trophies will be awarded in four singles categories and five doubles classifications.

Entries for the boys' and girls' singles competition—which opens tomorrow—will close at 9 p.m. tonight. Participants in the men's and women's division singles may register until 9 p.m. tomorrow (Friday).

Doubles entries must be received by August 18 and August 19 for this segment—which opens Friday, August 19. All registration will be made at the Wayne Community Center, 4635 Howe Road.

The tournament is open to city of Wayne residents, those who work within the city limits and students in the Wayne-Westland School District attendance area.

The four singles categories are girls (17 years and under), boys (17 years and under), women, and men. The girls' and boys' competition begins tomorrow. Play in the women's and men's divisions starts Saturday, while finals in all four are slated for Sunday.

A spokesman for the department of parks and recreation indicated that some matches would be played at Wayne Memorial High School if the number of entries necessitated court time.

The entry fee for singles matches is $1.50 each and all players must furnish two new USTA-approved tennis balls for each match.

Matches will be decided on winning two of three sets, with the nine-point tie-breaker used after six games if needed. The doubles tournament consists of girls' (17 and under), boys' (17 and under), men's (18 and over), women's (18 and over), and mixed (any age) categories.

Entry fee for doubles is $3 per team with the same rules of scoring applying. Each team must also furnish two USTA-approved balls.

Competition begins for boys and girls on Friday, August 19, and in the other three categories on Saturday, August 20. Finals are scheduled for Sunday, August 21. Again, if the number of entries warrants court space, some matches will be played at Wayne High.

Trophies will be awarded for first and second places in all divisions.

Class A Romulus Champions

Romulus' Class A All-Star team defeated its Class B counterparts in a 10-8 thriller to become the city's softball champions. Pictured here are the coaches and members of the Class A team.

Batting, fielding and rally highlight All-Star game

All the credentials for a thrilling game — hefty hitting, superb fielding and a 7-run last-inning rally — highlighted the fifth annual Romulus Ladies Softball League All-Star extravaganza, hosted by the Romulus Jaycees.

The Class A all stars held off a late surge to be the Class B all stars, 10-8, in a real donnybrook.

Jane Shaffer, Young Pioneer's slugger who won a pre-game home run derby, also smacked a round-tripper to lead the Class A team, while both Sharon Howie and Melanie Franklin, of Progressive Club, chipped in two hits each.

Until the Class B batters came to life, pitcher Bertha Sterling held the losers to only three hits in the first four innings to up her all-star competition record to 3-0.

Diane Nirva, of Bilmars, sparked the losers with three hits, while Linda Weimer (Meadow Lanes) and Venus Jeter (Kerrettes) each had two.

Diane Nirva also turned in two sparkling defensive plays with an over-the-shoulder catch and a shoestring grab to keep the Class B team in contention. Marilyn Blazer also stabbed a line drive to start a double play and end another Class A rally.

Linda Weimer, of the Class B Meadow Lanes team, was awarded the Jenny Wilcox Memorial Award for outstanding play and hustle.

Members of the Class A team who participated are Pricilla Gray, Rose Thoms and Jane Shaffer, of Young Pioneers; Bertha Sterling, Debbie Dick and Jo Lynn Debusscher, of R & R Threading; Sharon Howie, Melanie Franklin and Maria Franklin, of Progressive Club; Faye Savage, Debbie Rashi and Janice Coleman, of S.O.S.; Margaret Ayers, Debbie Owens, and Jean Hoffman of Polka Dot; Tammy Phillips, Anna Phillips and Jan Folmer, of Tall Oaks; Vickie Brainard, Marianne Brainard and Marianne Oaks, of Baums, and Nan Kokila, Carol Goeckle and Nancy Tamer, of Spirit of 76.

Al Sopher and Helen Thoms coached the victors.

The Class B team consisted of the following: Linda Weimer, Brenda Frazier and Mary Bear, of Meadow Lanes; Carol Fehmie, Evie Bordt and Joyce Evans, of Baldos; Linda Brooks, Chris Hoeft and Betty Pearson, Nemos; Marilyn Blazer, Venus Jeter and Bridget Hearst, Kerrettes; Diane Nirva, Gail Blanchard and Linda Swiecki, Bilmars; Sharon Dugan, Karen Jaeger and Lori Graczyk, Greenbriar; Rhoda Stokley, Faye Fredrick and Jill Bilkmap, Suburban Oil, and Laura Maxwell and Carol Munda, of Hustlers.

Tom Zbikowski and Marshall H all coached the Class B stars.

Meadow Lanes wins Romulus Class B Race

Outlasting its closest competition, Meadow Lanes-Ace chalked up a pair of wins to clinch the Class B Division championship in the Romulus Ladies Softball League and began looking forward to post-season playoffs.

Meadow Lanes defeated Bilmars, 9-6, and then outslugged Kerrettes, 17-11, to take a two-game bulge over Nemo with only one game left in the regular season. Mary Lawson had three singles and Kathy Genaw aided her own pitching cause with two hits in the victory over Bilmars.

Cheryl Elliott overcame a sore ankle to gain the pitching victory as her teammates slammed 23 hits to beat Kerrettes. Carol Carner, Mary Bear and Tammy Roberts each collected three hits and Linda Weimer clouted a home run to lead the assault.

Meanwhile, Nemos edged Baldos, 8-7, on Kathy Isler's timely hit — one of two — and downed Hustlers, 16-8, as Christ Hoeft and Linda Brooks each had three safeties. Edith Abdo was the winning pitcher in each contest.

The only remaining decision in Class B play is which teams will grab the third and fourth playoff spots. Bilmars moved into contention with Baldos and Kerrettes by downing Greenbriar, 12-4, to even its record at 6-6. Nancy Miller rapped four singles and Gail Blanchard drove in four runs to pace the win.

Fall preview? Don't be sure

For all anyone knows, the Wayne Recreation Class F "world series" could be a forecast of the professional October classic annually staged by the Major Leagues. At least the two teams in the Wayne classic have the same names as contenders in the "play-for-pay" world of baseball.

The Yankees, two-time winners over the Twins, will meet the Cubs, who downed the Reds twice, in Class F playoff finale. Naturally, the Yankees will represent the American League and the Cubs the National League.

Single settles struggle

Jeff Pizzuti singled home Larry Wood in the bottom of the eleventh inning last week to give Extra Point Bar an 11-10 margin over UAW Local 735, and the 1977 championship of the Wayne-Westland-Garden City Men's Morning Softball League.

The marathon contest was a nip-and-tuck struggle that saw first Local 735 take the lead, and Extra Point rally for a tie, only to have Local 735 take a 10-8 lead in the top of the ninth inning on Bud Daniels' two-run homer.

But Extra Point struck for a pair in the bottom of the ninth to send the game even deeper into extra innings, setting the stage for Pizzuti's blast. Pizzuti was the winning pitcher and Robert Hood absorbed a tough defeat.

The league has been a successful venture in cooperative organizing of the departments of parks and recreations from the three cities.

Ruth stars top state tourney

Earlier in the day, Steve Radley scattered seven hits and Westland handed National its first loss, 4-1, setting the stage for the championship contest. The state champs put the game away in the fifth inning on singles by Schultz, Piscopink, Dave Gioia and Radley, topped off by a sacrifice fly off the bat of Craig Hnatuck. Hnatuck also had a triple in the win.

The bitter defeat to Alpena National in the opening round dropped Westland into the losers' bracket and added extra pressure since another defeat would have meant elimination.

But Schultz and Radley twirled back-to-back two-hitters as Westland beat L'Anse Cruz, 7-2, and Alpena American, 4-1.

Then, in what Shoner calls probably the turning point of the tournament, Tom Fargo slammed a pinch-hit single in the fourth inning as Westland edged West Seven, 2-1. Piscopink limited the Detroit team to three hits and Gioia made a superb throw with two out in the last inning to cut down West Seven's potential tying run at the plate.

Later that day, Schultz hurled a three-hitter and Piscopink led a balanced attack with a 365-foot home run to defeat Marysville, 12-0. Radley paced Westland in the doubleheader with five hits.

Westland advanced to the state trials by winning a district tournament against Lincoln Park and the Westland Double-A All-Stars.

Blue race to wire

Pulk chipped in two hits. Paul Lapinski, Tim Dumouchelle and Lonnie Ruthig had two safeties for the league leaders.

In a week sparked with upsets, Mike Schaffeth boomed a home run in the bottom of the eighth inning to give Odyssey Lounge a 16-15 edge of Berry's Home Supply. It was only the third win for Odyssey and only Berry's third loss.

Paced by Steve Frazer's two homers and six runs-batted-in, Berry's jumped off to an early lead and held a 15-11 lead after five and one-half innings. But Doug Miller,

By comparative scores in divisional play, the Yankees appear to have an edge, but as anybody who follows sports can easily attest that, comparative scores and previous records can be tossed aside.

The Yankees' two wins over the Twins were by scores of 7-4 and 18-2, while the Twins' lone victory was a 3-2 edge. Jim Little and Mark Scott combined for a 1-hit masterpiece to put the Yankees into the world series and both socked home runs, along with Jim Nesbitt, in the winners' 16-hit assault. Bryan Bailey was the only Twin to get a safety, while Little struck out nine and Scott fanned three.

In the opening encounter, Little went the full seven innings, allowing three hits and striking out 14. Little, Dave Howard, Richard Browne and Nesbitt each had two hits.

The Twins made the most of only two hits off Scott to gain a 3-2 victory. Jay Kober, the losing pitcher, was tagged by Nesbitt's home run, but otherwise scattered the Yankee runners.

Meanwhile, the National League Cubs were having as much fun as their much-publicized major league name sakes, knocking off the Reds, 3-2, in the opening round, and then battering out an 11-3 victory for the championship.

Sandwiched in between, the Reds borrowed some of Cincinnati's strategy and pounded out a 15-4 triumph to stay alive. Mike Tremonti, Bryan Armstrong, Steve Jaskolski and Steve Wello each laced two hits to pace the Red attack. Jaskolski got the pitching victory on a five-hitter.

In the opening game Jim Allen was both the hitting and pitching star with a two-run homer in the fifth inning and a seven-hit mound performance. Richie Wohlfeil and Mike Buzzel aided the Cub assault with two hits.

Bryan Armstrong, Norm Estes and Mike Tremonti each had two hits for the losers, who couldn't seem to bunch their blows.

In the finale, Jim Hogan hit a home run and Jim Allen scattered seven Red hits for the Cubs' pennant victory. Mike LeBlanc had two hits for the winners, while Don Erkart and Kevin Avis each rapped two for the Reds.

J&D is first to triumph

Debbie Reid, Geri LaPere, Laurie Bleyart and Kathy Podgorny each had two hits for the winners. Elaine Blackwell, Pattie Thornberry and Laura Day each had two for the losers, but winning pitcher Cheryl MaDean spaced the Mac safeties.

When the eventual finalists advanced to the winners' bracket, things appeared just like they have throughout the hard-fought regular season. Extra Point jumped off to an early lead, but J & D was undenied and combined its eight hits with nine errors to rally for 14 runs in the last four innings for a 15-6 victory.

Gay Diehl again paced the J & D assault with two hits, as did Kathy Jewcawitz, while Beth Johnson drove in two runs. Vickie Pier, Terri Richardson and Geri LaPere each had two singles for Extra Point.

Mac's Tools finished third in the playoffs with an 8-0 shutout of Jake's Lounge as Stacy Sailus hurled a three-hitter. Elaine Blackwell, Brenda Schwartz and Stacy Sailus each had two hits for Mac's.

Terry Johnson and Mike Bemoni rallied Odyssey for four runs in each the sixth and seventh innings to send the game into overtime.

Miller had a homer and two doubles, while Johnson and Bemoni each banged three hits.

Close race for second place

Though John Riddle (in middle) managed to escape any playoff to win top honors in Wayne's second flight at the City Golf Championships, Jim Lentine and John Somers (at right) had to work overtime to determine who'd wind up getting the second place plaque. Lentine won the sudden death playoff after the two golfers finished with 174s. But Riddle's 171 earned him first place honors accolades.

Joe Thomas takes lead on White Division title

Ruling out a major upset, Joe Thomas appears ready to finish the Westland Men's Minor Softball League White Division season without a scrape.

Joe Thomas maintained its undefeated position atop the division standings last Thursday with a 32-5 rout of Wayne County Sheriff. The victory was the tenth in as many starts.

Bob Thaxton was the leading force for Joe Thomas as he hit safely five times to drive in five runs, while Rick Wheeler hit for the circuit (single, double, triple and home run) and Jim Tromeur had four safeties. Joe Cooley was the winning pitcher, but was nipped for three singles by Larry Sullivan and two doubles by the loser's Jim Rafalski.

Wayne Motor Supply stayed right on the leader's heels, however, with a 19-6 win over Mr. Steak as Rick Abbott banged three triples and a double to knock in four runs. Rick Powell had three hits, while Bob Mijal added two to give Ken Halis the pitching victory.

Evergreen Sprinkling made Wayne County General's playoff position a little shaky by upending the fourth-place team, 13-10, as John Redmond and Gary Ryciewicz each banded four hits. Dale Hilton, Rick Parr and Jim Blakely—who had two hits each for the losers—paced a seventh-inning rally that fell short.

In the highlight of last week's action, Joe Thomas jumped into a one-game lead by handing Wayne Motor Supply its first loss, 12-6, behind the hitting trio of Charley Nielson, Scott Brown and Jim Gagleard. Nielson had a homer and two singles, while Brown included a triple and double in his three hits.

Joe Cooley got the pitching victory as Joe Thomas maintained its undefeated string.

Wayne County General suffered a playoff-race setback when Leaseway of Detroit took a 13-7 verdict. Dave Hines had four hits, while Bill Lietz and Wayne McDonald each added three to lead the Leaseway attack. Joe Richardson collected four hits for the losers, while Rick Parr and Jim Blakely each added two.

Walking is healthy!

Golf lead fades

Success and its fame can be fleeting!

If you doubt that, just ask last week's leaders in both the men's and women's Canton Township golf leagues.

John Tetsworth and Paul Oberhelman finished the first nine-week session atop the Canton Men's Golf League, but find themselves all the way down to fourth place as the second session begins.

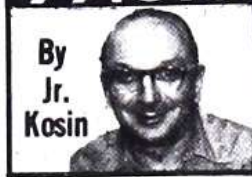

Despite a good match which saw Tetsworth-Oberhelman win 4½ points of a possible five, the squads of John Wilson-Larry Slade, Bruce Karen-Bruce Watt and Ron Cundiff-Charles Wolford were perfect and grabbed the early second-round lead.

Also fighting to stay near the top was the team of Mike Ryan and Robert White, who finished the first half in second place and started the final stanza with 4½.

Dominique Patalidis was medalist for the week with 37, while Tony Matson and Bruce Karen each fired 39. Also still very much in contention with four points in the first match are the teams of Caning-Young and Matson-Melling.

In the Canton Women's League, Chris Matson and Frankie McNutt ran into a buzz saw in the form of Estella Heidt and Virginia Atwood and fell from first place to third.

AUTO FACTS

The component parts of a car function in a relationship to each other almost as intricate as that of the organs, nerves and glands of the human body. The heart of the car is its engine. But just as the human heart requires the supportive systems of the rest of the body the engine depends on other mechanisms within the car. The engine must be fed, kept at a steady temperature, lubricated constantly. It must have a waste disposal system, a system that directs movements, as well as the ability to move.

If you have a repair problem with your car's engine, bring it to experts at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster! Our machine shop is fully equipped to handle all types of repairs on engines from motorcycle engines to Diesel engines; we work on automotive, industrial, marine, and agricultural engines. Our mechanics are all well-qualified and experienced in all phases of machine work. We also have a complete inventory of parts and accessories for both foreign and domestic cars. Come in and let our friendly staff help you select the parts you need for your car. Call KOSIN'S AT 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M.

Massey upsets champs

Although not having an effect on the Canton Class B Men's Softball League season outcome, Don Massey Cadillac gained a measure of personal esteem for itself with a 10-3 upset of previously-undefeated McMurray Insurance.

McMurray won the Class B championship with a 14-1 record, while Massey finished second with a 10-5 mark.

But it was all Massey in the season finale as Sandy Black played a flawless third base and had a perfect night at the plate with a homer, a double and two singles in leading the second-place team to its finest hour.

Pat Byrnes held the previously unstoppable McMurray team to only five hits while Mike Stanislawski aided the Massey cause with two singles.

Earlier in the week, Massey pounded Little Caesars, 11-5, as Dale Merrit slammed two doubles and a single. Black and Mark Immorfaul each added two hits. Rhonda Williams laced a pair of safeties for Little Caesars.

Clark Block had its hitting shoes on for its final game of the regular season in a 12-8 extra-inning struggle over Smith Realty. The winners tallied four times in the eighth inning for its victory margin.

Bill Baryo slammed four hits and Joe Jakabowski added three to help give Nick Faber the pitching victory. Tom Laparte had a home run, a double and a single for Realty, while Dave Manos also slugged a roundtripper for the losers.

Claims first race at Flat Rock

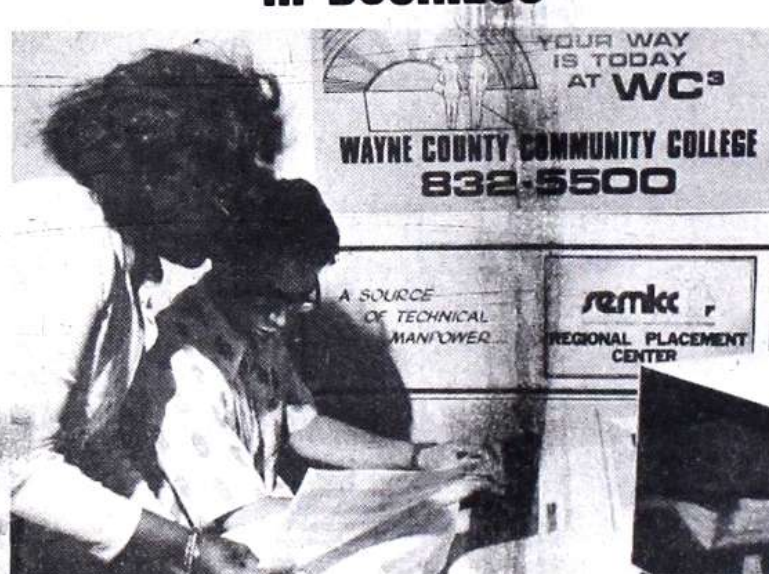

Steve Dale, of Belleville, drove into the winner's circle at Flat Rock Speedway for the first time last week as he pushed his Harlan Boyd Camaro to a feature victory.

Dale, a relative newcomer to racing circles, has been steadily improving and finally put it all together to edge Buddy Bennett, of Lake Orion, in the premier event of the night.

Denny Pace, of Canton Township, was third.

HAMBURGER QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What should I look for in buying ground beef; in handling after purchase?

A. First, make sure the package has not been torn. Select a package that feels cold. Then, get it home quickly and refrigerate or freeze it immediately. Each of these measures will help to preserve the freshness and flavor of the meat.

Q. What causes ground beef patties to shrink when cooking?

A. All meat will shrink in size and weight during cooking. The amount of shrinkage will depend on its fat content, the temperature at which the meat is cooked and how long it is cooked. Basically, the higher the cooking temperatures (325-350° F.) will reduce shrinkage and help retain meat juices and flavor. Overcooking draws out most juices from ground beef. Wait until ground beef is cooked to season with salt; salt draws juices out of meat.
